

Peacetime Military Budget 56 Billion

House Debate To Commence On Wednesday

Public Works Money Is Not Included

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP)—A record $56,062,405,890 peacetime military budget was approved today by the House appropriations committee. It is $1,542,608,500 less than the president requested and does not include $4,500,000,000 for public works construction to be considered later this year. Neither does it include financing of the fighting in Korea since June 30. The bill for that is to be footed in a later measure.

With that one exception, the present measure is to finance the defense department for the fiscal year ending next June 30.

Up For Debate

Accompanying the big money bill to the House for debate starting Wednesday was a statement by Rep. Mahon (D-Tex.). It sharply rebuked the military for wasteful manpower and procurement practices. Mahon is chairman of a subcommittee that wrote the bill after several months of hearings.

More than half the bill's total is for buying military "hardware"—tanks, planes, guns, rockets, weapons and other supplies for a military manpower force of 3,500,000.

About $15,000,000,000 is for aircraft and component parts to give this country what the committee called "the most powerful striking force ever placed in the hands of any nation."

To Curb Aggression

The overall objective of the huge outlay of funds, the committee said, is:

"To build sufficient forces as practicable to act as a deterrent to further aggression; to create sufficient power to prevent disaster in the event war is forced upon us; to provide an immediate capability for quick and strong retaliation in case of an attack upon us; and to produce a firm base upon which to build, as quickly as possible, that power necessary to assure victory should we be forced to engage in all-out conflict."

Here's how the money would be allotted, by services:

Army: $20,125,574,665, a cut of $685,321,500 from what it wanted.

Navy: $15,552,143,225, a cut of $194,272,000.

Air Force: $19,854,128,000, a cut of $647,015,000.

National Security Council: $160,000, no cut.

National Security Resources Board: $1,600,000, no cut.

Secretary of Defense: $528,800,000, a cut of $16,000,000; out of this allotment comes retirement pay of $345,000,000.

New Methods Promise Big Cortisone Supply

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK (AP)—Enough cortisone, the wonder hormone, to treat almost everyone needing it is promised in new methods today of making the drug from plentiful raw materials.

The producers get it from coal tar, yeast, yams, soy beans and cholesterol, a fat-like material in animal bodies.

Three new methods, all brilliant chemical achievements, were announced in the Journal of the American Chemical Society by scientists of Harvard university and of Merck and Company, of Rahway, N. J.

Cortisone is made naturally by your adrenal glands. As a medicine, it relieves rheumatoid arthritis and helps against rheumatic fever, some allergies and eye diseases and many other ailments.

The medical supply so far has depended upon making it from cattle bile. That source of supply is limited and cortisone has been one of the world's most sought after drugs.

The new methods can tap inexhaustible sources of supply. It still will take time, however, to build plants or even to make sure that the processes are commercially feasible. They may in time result in lower prices of cortisone.

Two new processes can get cortisone from chemicals called steroids obtained from yeast, yams or soy beans, or from cholesterol which also is a steroid.

Explorers Saved On Mt. Hubbard

Were Survivors Of Norseman Plane

JUNEAU, Alaska — The query "Norseman?"—tramped out in the snow on an Alaskan mountain led to the rescue yesterday of three explorers marooned by the disappearance of their expedition plane.

The message referred to a Norseman plane with three aboard which vanished July 27.

Rescued from Mt. Hubbard in the Alaska Panhandle by a ski-wheel equipped C-47 of the Air Force were Walter A. Wood of Fair Hills, N. J., his son, Peter, 20, and Robert Bates, believed from Boston. Wood was in charge of ice studies for the Arctic institute.

Lost aboard the Norseman were Maurice King, Wood's wife and their daughter Valerie.

The C-47, which rescued the three from the 12,064-foot mountain, is equipped with Jato (jet-assisted-takeoff) units. It has been flying off the Juneau ice cap where explorers conduct investigations of glaciers.

The plane is one of many planes which have been searching for the Norseman and for a Korean airlift plane which vanished nearby July 21 with 38 persons aboard.

Crystal Falls Man Is Fatally Injured

TIPLER, Wis. — (AP)—Richard Johnson, 24, of Crystal Falls, Mich., was injured fatally yesterday near here when the car in which he was riding left the road and overturned.

He was uninjured and offered no resistance. He has been in trouble since he left his Arkansas home at 13 and has served several prison terms.

Navy Builds Up Mediterranean Fleet Strength

May Be Reason For Bases In Spain

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy is building up its fleet strength in the Mediterranean. This may be one of the reasons why the U. S. is moving now for an arrangement for Spain to use naval and air bases in that country.

Since it began operating in the Mediterranean soon after World War II the 6th fleet has relied on a method of service and supply like that used in the Pacific campaigns. All of its fuel, food and other supplies are from the "train" of auxiliary vessels steaming with the fleet—tankers, cargo vessels, refrigerator ships, repair craft.

1,500 Mile Pipeline

Because the train must get its supplies back in home ports of the east coast United States, this means a "pipeline" of 1,500 miles must be maintained.

Some official observers now incline to the thought that if Yugoslavia is attacked, the strike might not be by mere satellite nations but by Russian forces. If that should happen, one expert commented, World War III could be close.

Russians Maneuver

This same official, discussing a possible Russian strike directly against the major western powers, suggested that such an attack could be a complete surprise. He explained that the Soviet armies in eastern Europe and Germany are on almost constant maneuvers and that these maneuvers could be converted quickly into the opening phase of an actual attack on the NATO defenses. The Soviet troop units, he explained, base their maneuvers on theoretical attack against units of the Western European defense forces which the Red Army knows are in certain positions.

Troopers Raid Gambling 'Den'

Lions Were Raising Money For Hospital

MARINE CITY, Mich. — (AP)—The special rackets squad of the state police raided a carnival tent labeled the "Lion's Den" and seized a collection of gambling equipment along with six prominent businessmen.

Acting on complaint of a Detroit woman, the squad staged the raid yesterday at the Mardi Gras sponsored here by the Lions club to raise money for a new hospital.

State Trooper Carl W. Robinson said the raiders found several slot machines, a crap game and other gambling games in the tent.

He indicated that the six arrested, including two school board members, would be let off on the light charge of a simple misdemeanor because of the "recognized charitable nature of the carnival."

Cadet Dismissals Cost Government Over $2,000,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) said today more than $2,000,000 would be wasted through the mass dismissal of 90 West Point cadets for cheating on examinations. "But," he added, "it is worth it."

"I think the army is to be congratulated for stepping in and cleaning up their own house, and there is no need for a congressional investigation," Johnson, a former chairman of the senate military affairs committee, told a reporter.

Johnson said it costs an average of more than $30,000 for each young man appointed to the West Point Military academy and so, he said, the mass dismissal could waste as much as $2,700,000.

Several Killed In Indonesian Communist Riot

JAKARTA, Indonesia — A band of 150 carrying the Communist-sponsored Picasso peace dove and armed with machine-guns fought a bloody battle with police and storm troopers today in the port city of Tandjong Priok, 10 miles from here.

Eleven persons were reported killed—five of them members of the army and police and six of them Reds. At least 30 of the attackers were arrested and at least 15 bystanders were believed to have been injured.

Reds Apologize For Neutrality Violation

Cadets Charge Duress Was Used To Get Confessions Of Cheating

WEST POINT, N. Y. — (AP)—Several cadets say they admitted cheating at examinations after military academy officials threatened them with loss of citizenship, perjury citations and prison terms.

A "stool pigeon" was used to obtain information on the alleged cribbing, say a number of the cadets facing dismissal from West Point for violating the school's honor system.

These allegations, immediately denied by an academy spokesman, were made yesterday as a special screening board started final examination of each cadet's case.

Ninety cadets were accused Friday of classroom cheating. Their identities were withheld, but slowly they and their parents were beginning to speak up in bitter criticism of the army's action.

De-Emphasis Considered

In Washington, senators and congressmen debated the need for an investigation into the dismissals and discussed the possibility of de-emphasizing sports, particularly football, at the academy.

There were reports that 44 players on the vaunted Army football team were involved in the scandal. The captain-elect of the 1951 team, Harold J. Loehelein,

NO SYMPATHY FOR "CRIBBERS"—West Point Cadet Capt. William Geatches, of Linton, Ind., tells reporters that he and his comrades feel no sympathy for the 90 cadets expelled for cheating on exams. Typical of sentiment heard at the Academy was, "They violated our honor code, so I am glad to see them go." Cadet Geatches declared that disclosure of the code violations was not a sign of weakness in the Academy's powerful honor code, but an indication of its strength.

Chief Justice Vinson Hinted For Presidency

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—New talk of Chief Justice Fred Vinson as a possible presidential candidate has cropped up among Capitol Hill Democrats.

Vinson, as a supreme court justice, isn't in a position to say anything one way or the other, but some of his friends say the chief justice could be persuaded to leave the court and make the race.

The chief justice is regarded as one of those who might be picked by President Truman to take his place as the nominee if Mr. Truman decides he won't run again.

Comes From Kentucky

A Kentuckian and a former member of Congress, Vinson would be calculated to cool the Southern revolt that threatens to be more serious next year than it was in 1948 when President Truman lost four states to the states rights ticket.

Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said yesterday at Portland, Ore., that he thought Mr. Truman could get the Democratic nomination and be elected in 1952 if he wanted the job. But, Kefauver said he was not campaigning for Mr. Truman.

Classed As Conservative

While Vinson is looked upon as something of a conservative, he

Dr. Soule Had Sinus Cancer

Was Afflicted For Twelve Years

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (AP)—A University of Michigan scientist who killed himself with snake venom because he couldn't face prosecution for a petty embezzlement suffered "continual pain" from cancer for years before his death.

An autopsy on the body of Dr. Malcolm H. Soule, 54, disclosed yesterday that he had cancer of the nose and sinus for 12 years and had undergone several operations in a vain attempt to cure it.

Dr. Doris L. Hinerman, who performed the autopsy, said the scientist's brain cells were being had been any deterioration.

Dr. Soule, a world-known authority on tropical diseases and head of Michigan's bacteriology for 16 years, was fired Friday after admitting he forged $487.05 in expense vouchers.

Roumell Heads State Legion

Dearborn Attorney Succeeds Wagner

DETROIT (AP)—Dearborn Attorney Thomas Roumell will head Michigan's American Legion organization for the coming year.

Roumell, who succeeds the Legion's retiring commander, Adm. William Wagner of Battle Creek, was elected yesterday by 2,000 delegates to the 33rd annual convention.

The 37-year-old veteran of World War II defeated Eugene Houck of Lansing after a heated election campaign. He piled up such a big margin on the first ballot that one of Houck's supporters moved that he be named unanimously.

Mrs. Edith Bryan of Detroit was elected president of the Legion auxiliary.

Nehru Explains Military Stand

Charges Pakistan Plans Aggression

By R. SAKAKOPAN

NEW DELHI, India — (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru has declared Indian troops are held 20 miles back of the Pakistan border to avoid trivial incidents that might lead to all-out war. He said his government has evidence that Pakistan planned to launch aggressive action into the disputed princely state of Kashmir.

Nehru's statement was contained in a strongly-worded note to Pakistan Premier Liaquat Ali Khan, who has charged that Indian troops at his country's borders pose a threat of war.

The note, which was dispatched Saturday, said Indian forces were not ordered toward the Indian-Pakistan frontier until after "we had evidence Pakistan was preparing for aggressive action."

He charged that Pakistan had started moving a brigade toward the Kashmir border, threatening the city of Poonch on June 28. On learning this, the Indian leader said his country's troops were ordered to move to the border as a defensive countermeasure.

Dallas Youth Held For Slaying Father

DALLAS (AP)—A slender, teen-age youth told police he shot his wealthy father to death yesterday because, "he kept after me for staying out late at night."

Slain was Wallace E. Hawkins, 56, vice-president and general counsel of the Magnolia Petroleum company. Detective Capt. Will Fritz said 16-year-old John Michael Hawkins admitted that he shot his sleeping father in their fashionable home.

The boy cannot be charged with murder under Texas law. Fritz said charges will be handled as a petition in juvenile court.

The youth's mother died nine years ago. He lived alone with his father and servants.

Ford Plant Union Strikes At Monroe

MONROE, Mich. — (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers International will be asked to approve a strike that could lead to the closing of Ford Motor Co. plants throughout the nation.

UAW employees at the Ford wheel plant here voted nearly unanimously yesterday to strike in a production dispute that began six years ago. The International still must approve the walkout that would involve 2,000 workers.

Negotiations between Ford and officers of UAW Local 733 will resume Wednesday.

Ridgway And Allied Truce Team Confer

Kaesong Armistice Talks May Resume

By JIM BECKER

TOKYO (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway and four Allied ceasefire delegates conferred in Tokyo tonight on stalled truce talks at Kaesong.

Out of that conference may come a message to the Reds which will lead to resumption of negotiations.

A Ridgway aide said the supreme commander was preparing such a message. It will reply to the Red apology for the presence of armed Chinese soldiers near the U. N. staff house in Kaesong Saturday.

The supreme commander called off the talks Sunday morning. He charged the Reds with "flagrant violation" of Kaesong's neutrality.

Late Monday afternoon Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, senior U. N. delegate, and three other Allied negotiators flew to Tokyo from Korea.

They immediately went into conference with Ridgway at his headquarters.

The conference ended several hours later when Ridgway returned to his home.

Violated Kaesong's Neutrality

In breaking off the talks Sunday morning, Ridgway demanded assurances that armed Red troops would not again violate Kaesong's neutrality.

About 150 Chinese soldiers marched within a few hundred yards of the U. N. staff house during the luncheon recess Saturday. They carried rifles, machine guns and hand grenades.

The Reds apologized over Peiping radio Monday, and asked that talks be resumed immediately. They said it was an "accident," and that steps were being taken to insure the incident wouldn't be repeated.

They also replied directly to Ridgway, but the text of that message was not disclosed.

If the talks resume Tuesday, the Reds and Allies will again come to grips on the problem of a cease-fire buffer zone.

The Reds want it along the

Bomber Crashes In Puget Sound

Navy Expects Nine Aboard Are Lost

SEATTLE (AP)—Navy district headquarters announced the crash today of a navy patrol bomber into Puget Sound with nine men aboard. All were believed lost.

The crash occurred near Smith Island, about a mile north of Whidbey island in the northern part of Puget Sound.

The 13th naval district announcement said the plane was making low altitude training runs when it met disaster at 8:50 a. m. Pacific standard time.

The accident was witnessed by members of another navy plane flying nearby.

Less than an hour after the crash, the navy reported two bodies had been recovered from the water. They were being flown by helicopter to the Whidbey island naval air station.

The search for the other bodies was being conducted by both air and sea search crews.

The crashed plane was attached to fleet air wing 4 at the Whidbey island station.

Youth's Body Is Recovered

Funeral Tuesday For Drowning Victim

The short-clad body of Alfred Gelina, 16, son of Mrs. Lawrence Gelina of 1407 North 19th street, Escanaba, who drowned at 10:30 a. m. Saturday in the Escanaba river near its mouth, was recovered at 3:55 p. m. Saturday with drag hooks.

The boy apparently was seized with a cramp when he plunged into the river to recover a borrowed fishing pole. Arthur Lang of Wells was operating drag hooks that recovered the body from about 12 feet of water.

Alfred Lawrence Gelina was born Dec. 24, 1934, at Cornell. He attended Escanaba Junior High school and was a member of St. Thomas the Apostle church.

Surviving are his mother, two brothers, Clarence of Milwaukee and Gerald at home, and one sister, Rose Marie, at home.

The body is at the Degan funeral home where friends may call, and the rosary will be recited at 8 p. m. tonight.

Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m. Tuesday in St. Thomas the Apostle church with the Rev. Fr. Arnold Thompson officiating.

Burial will be in Flat Rock cemetery, Escanaba township.

Child Receives Anti-Rabic Care

Flat Rock Girl, Two, Victim of Dog Bite

Anti-rabic or Pasteur treatment was begun Saturday for Borden, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Borden of Flat Rock, who was bitten in the face July 28 by a dog that died Saturday.

Dr. William C. Harrison, director of the Delta-Menominee health district, today said a report was received Sunday from Michigan Department of Health laboratories that the dog's brain contained Negri bodies, found only in animals afflicted with rabies.

Following death of the dog Saturday the anti-rabic treatment was begun at once by a local physician.

Injections will be given daily for 21 days because of the severity of the bites and their location on the child's face near the central nervous system.

The child was bitten on both cheeks rather severely by a dog owned by Harry Van Danaker of Flat Rock. The dog was described as a mongrel resembling a collie and was about 14 years old.

Dr. Harrison said the laboratory finding of rabies in the dog indicates the possibility of a "back log of rabies" among dogs, cats and other animals in the area.

LOSE WEIGHT REDUCE With Rennel

"I was overweight, short of breath and had dizzy spells until I started to take Rennel Concentrate," writes Mrs. R. Smith, 727 S. Magnolia Ave., Lansing 12, Mich. "In a short time with the help of Rennel I lost 25 pounds, got back to regular habits, dizzy spells disappeared, and up and down steps are not a problem any more. My health is better and I feel fine. That is what Rennel did for me and thanks a million for it."
"It's amazing how quickly you can lose unsightly fat at home. Obtain liquid Rennel at your drugist, mix with grapefruit juice as directed and take two tablespoonsfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If you do not lose weight with the very first bottle just return it for your money back. You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Rennel."

Flowers Drop On Hiroshima

Sixth Anniversary Of Bombing Marked

HIROSHIMA, Japan — (AP) — Three veterans of the Korean war manned a U. S. bomber which dropped flowers on Hiroshima today—the sixth anniversary of the first atomic bombing.

The B-26 approached the city from the south. It traveled the same route as the B-29 Superfort which dropped the atom bomb over Hiroshima Aug. 6, 1945, in the closing days of the Pacific war.

The B-26 dropped two laurel wreaths—both bought by personnel of the third bomb wing based in southern Japan.

As the bomber disappeared in the clouds, the rebuilt city began a solemn, daylong observance of a fateful day in world history. Shrines and churches were crowded with Japanese paying homage to the estimated 100,000 who died in the explosion.

Hiroshima is once again a bustling metropolis of some 300,000 population—about the same as before the atomic blast. There has been much rebuilding, but stark reminders of the destruction remain.

Motorist Charged With Drunk Driving

Francis Papineau, 1720 Eighth avenue, was ticketed by city police on a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock. Two companions, Norman Arntzen, 800 South 11th street, and Howard Perron, 1214 South 10th street, were charged with being drunk and disorderly.

Police reported that a car driven by Papineau, making a wide left turn at the intersection of 11th street and Third avenue south, ran over the curb and struck a light pole.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Forslund have returned from a weekend trip to Chicago and Evanston, where they visited the Emil Forslund and Gust Thrope families. They also attended the birthday anniversary of their daughter, Nancy Faye, who is vacationing in Chicago at the home of her aunt and uncle.

Mrs. Harvey Sundin, Mrs. Pete Forslund and Mrs. Ellen Groleau visited with Mrs. John Malivick, who is a patient at Schoolcraft Memorial hospital. Mrs. Malivick is the former Grace Wood. Mrs. Vernon Peterson is attending classes at the Manistique high school in preparation to teaching this fall.

Mrs. Isadore Bonifas and Mrs. Norman Morrison have returned from Boyne City, where they visited at the Otto Miller home.

Briefly Told

Apply For License — Application for a marriage license has been made at the office of the Delta county clerk by Felix Hill and Mrs. Seimi DesJardin of Escanaba.

Liquor Hearing — The case of Berthal T. Hansen of Lathrop, charged with selling to a minor, will be heard by the Michigan Liquor Control commission at the court house in Escanaba on Aug. 14.

Walter Cole Auxiliary — The Ladies' auxiliary of the Walter Cole post at Rapid River will meet Tuesday at the Frank Gerloch place. It is to be an election meeting, and a large attendance is desired.

Yachts Visit Escanaba — Visiting yachts here over the weekend were the 50-foot cabin cruiser Merry K IV of Green Bay, which left yesterday for Egg Harbor; and the 37-foot cruiser Rena B, owned by Roy A. Smith of Grand Rapids. The Rena B. arrived Saturday from Charlevoix with four persons aboard and will stay for three or four days.

Runaways Found — Two 10-year-old Delta county boys, who were located in a swamp near Cornell by Walter Fleury of that community Friday night, have been returned to their homes. State police questioned them and learned they had stolen two rifles from the Cornell camp owned by Maurice Harrison, 1428 North 16th street, Escanaba, and had broken into the Red Owl store in Escanaba. Their cases have been called to the attention of the juvenile agent.

Plan U. P. History Meet; Delta Host August 11-12

Committees of the Delta County Historical Society at Escanaba and Fayette are making final plans for the second annual Upper Peninsula Local History conference, scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 11-12.

The conference is jointly sponsored by the Historical Society of Michigan and the Delta Historical society.

Wisconsin Man Is Accused of Theft Of Radio and Fan

Raymond A. Rast, 18, of Wauwatosa, has been arrested for breaking and entering a car owned by Kenneth Dufresne, of Escanaba, and stealing a car radio and fan. The car was parked in the 1600 block of Ludington street when the theft occurred Saturday, police reported.

Rast had the radio and fan in his own car when he was arrested.

Charge Aviator Flew Recklessly

GLADSTONE — Rudolph Gasperich, 1208 South Washtenaw street, Chicago, is scheduled for arraignment today in Justice A. T. Sohlberg's court at Gladstone for a reckless flying charge.

Complaint was made by Michigan state police who said Gasperich, flying from Chicago, swooped low over Kipling and Gladstone below the 1,000-foot level.

Gasperich was ticketed at Escanaba airport after he landed his plane there yesterday.

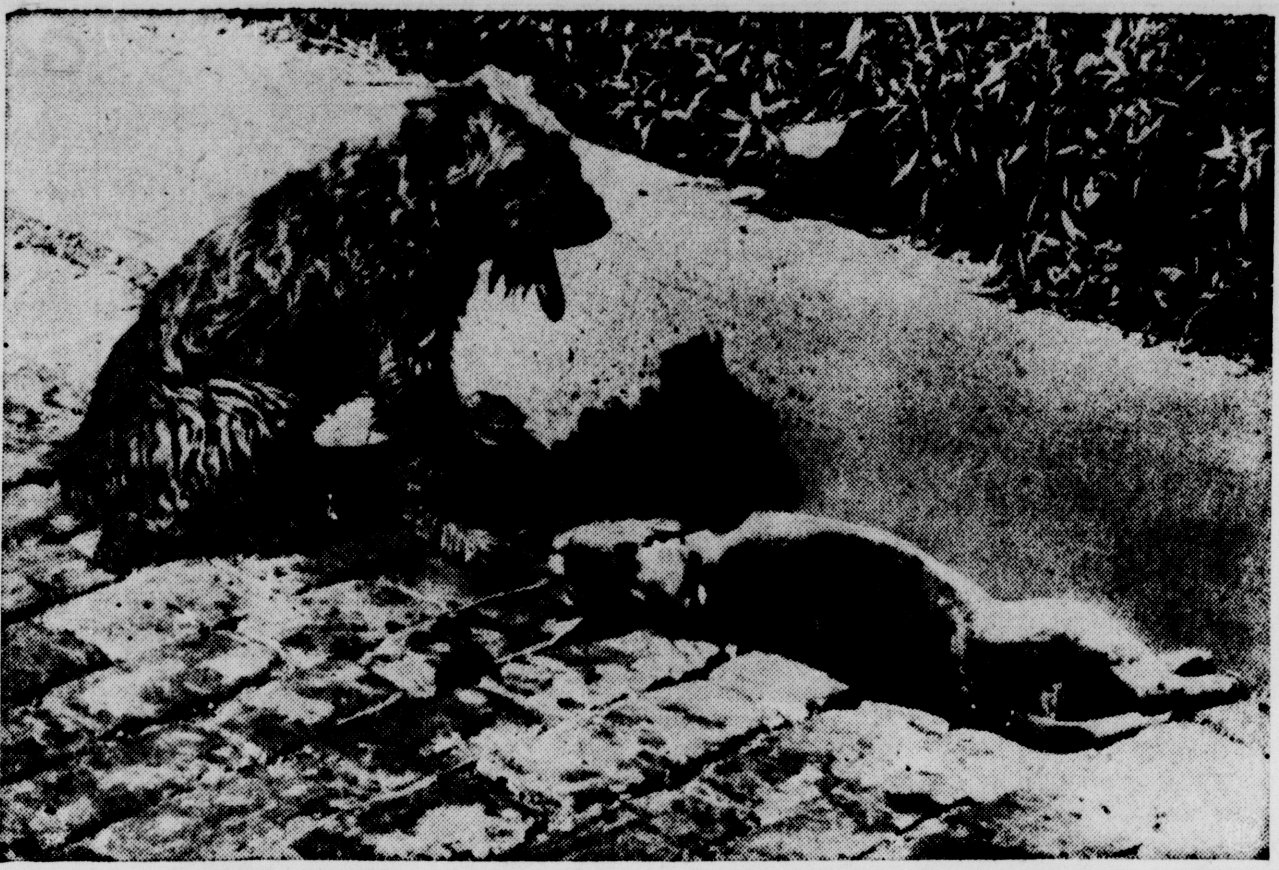

Air pressure which is 2.116 pounds per square foot at sea level is only 280 pounds per square foot at 50,000 feet.

Mrs. Bartel Dies At 86
Long a Member Of St. Joseph's
Mrs. Anna Bartel, 86, of 306 North 11th street, widely known Escanaba resident, died Sunday morning at 3:30 at her home of a heart attack.
She was one of the oldest living members of St. Joseph's parish.
Born in Luxemburg August 10, 1890 she came to the United States to live in Escanaba in 1890. Her marriage to John Bartel took place July 19, 1892 in St. Joseph's church here. Mr. Bartel died December 23, 1945.
Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Catherine Vargo of Gladstone, one son, John Bartel, jr., of Escanaba, and two grandchildren, Mary Anne Bartel of River Forest, Ill., and Kerwin of the Officers Candidate School, Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex.
Funeral services will be held at 9:30 Tuesday morning at St. Joseph's church with Father Stephen Schneider, O. F. M., officiating. Burial will be in Holy Cross cemetery. Friends may call at the Boyce Funeral home. The rosary will be recited there at 8 this evening.

FAITHFUL TO THE END—All night long, this hairy mutt stood guard over the body of his buddy, killed by a car on a Pittsburgh street. When the dog-pound men removed the body, the other pup walked off slowly down the street, his death watch completed.

General Morgan's Body Starts Feud In Virginia

WINCHESTER, Va.—(AP)—If the general were alive today, he might think he was in the midst of another revolution.
Gen. Daniel Morgan, hero of the American Revolution, isn't alive. Hasn't been, in fact, for some 149 years. But a couple of southern towns are about to start another Civil war over his body.
It was about a month ago that the Winchester Lions club received a letter from the Lions club of Cowpens, S. C. The South Carolinians wanted to transfer the body of Gen. Morgan from Mt. Hebron cemetery here to Cowpens, where the general won his fame.
The local Lions said, "sorry," it wasn't their affair. They referred the matter to the Winchester-Frederick County Historical society.
Came To Get Body
Nothing more was heard of the idea—until yesterday.
Without warning, a Cowpens undertaker and two Negro assistants arrived at Mt. Hebron cemetery.

Escape Injury In Traffic Accidents

GLADSTONE—Cars were damaged but no one was injured in traffic accidents reported over the weekend by Michigan State Police.
William J. Miller, 19, railroadman of 629 North 18th, Escanaba, told state police he must have dozed at the wheel at 4 a. m. on his way to work at Trenary when his car left US-2-41 and knocked down a row of mail boxes. The accident occurred at the Days River intersection.
Albert Vallier of Perkins, soldier home on leave, was ticketed by state police for reckless driving when his auto struck the rear of a parked car last evening on M-35 near Beaver. The parked auto is owned by Bernard Gilland of Rapid River, who had halted to repair a tire. Vallier said an oncoming car faced him and he skidded into the Gilland auto.

Pine Ridge

Home From Korea
PINE RIDGE — PFC David Larson has arrived from Korea on rotation leave and is spending a 30-day furlough at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Larson at Pine Ridge. He arrived home Friday. Pvt. Larson was in active service in Korea the past year and previous to that spent 16 months in Japan. This is his first visit home in 28 months.

State Has Too Many Districts
U. Issues Report On School Setup
Efforts in Michigan to provide children with equal educational opportunities in the public schools have not been successful.
These efforts have resulted in a complex system of state and local taxes and an outmoded network of school districts, a study by the University of Michigan Institute of Public Administration shows.
In 1910 there were 7,333 school districts which have been reduced to 4,904 today. However, the Michigan Public Education Study Commission has estimated that no more than 253 districts in the entire state are needed.
A thousand districts have no schools and the children are sent to schools in other districts. But the school district organization is continued according to the University study, "Paying for Public Schools in Michigan," by Betty Tableman.
The proposed 253 districts "would be delimited in terms of community areas with sufficient taxable property and sufficient child population to assure an adequate elementary and secondary educational program. Many of Michigan's problems in financing education today stem from the existing inadequate and uneconomic organization of school districts."
In equalizing educational opportunity a minimum educational program must be defined. But because of the difficulty of measuring the quality of education the program is based on the cost per pupil. In 1950 the amount was set at $126 per elementary pupil and $146 per high school student.

Cuban Senator Shoots Self
Is Violent Critic Of Prio Regime

HAVANA, Cuba.—(AP)—Sen. Eduardo R. Chibas, violent critic of President Carlos Prio Socarras, shot and seriously wounded himself last night as he concluded a radio broadcast denouncing the Prio regime.
A member of the studio audience, Romelio Hernandez, 29, was accidentally struck by the same bullet.
Chibas whipped out the gun and turned it on himself just after telling radio commentator Jose Pardo Hlada:
"I gave the people of Cuba one alarm. They did not respond. I'm giving them another alarm."
He was taken to a hospital where physicians said the condition of the 43-year-old senator was "extremely grave." A priest gave him the last rites of the Roman Catholic church as 5,000 persons milled about outside the hospital.

Lesson In Democracy Given At Council Meeting Here Friday

THERE was a lesson in democracy at the city hall council chambers Friday night when the Escanaba city council held its regular semi-monthly meeting.

The council had passed on first reading at a previous meeting a proposed new dog ordinance which was designed to change the period in which dogs must be confined to their premises in spring and summer months. The second and final reading was scheduled for Friday night. A sizable delegation of dog lovers was on hand to vigorously protest the change. They marshaled their arguments convincingly enough to cause the council to back down. A new dog ordinance was adopted but not before the proposal was revised to set the date on which dogs must be confined on leash or in their owners' yards to May 1, instead of April 1 as originally proposed. The May 1 date is the same as the old ordinance.

The council itself was undoubtedly happy about the interest shown in city government by local residents. Too often such little interest is indicated in the affairs of the city that the councilmen get discouraged by public apathy.

In June the city council adopted its annual tax ordinance which provided for a new tax of $2.50 per $1,000 valuation for street maintenance purposes and a tax rate of $17.50, which is a substantial boost from previous years. At the public hearing no one questioned the tax addition.

People apparently are more interested in dogs than in taxes.

Iran Oil Dispute Settlement Is Necessary

IT is pretty clear by now that while the Russian-controlled Reds in the Far East are putting on a slow-motion demonstration of peace negotiations in Korea, other Kremlin puppets are at work in the Near East to stir up trouble for the western world.

The Soviet pattern has been evident for some time in the Iranian oil crisis. Now it is spreading throughout the Arab states, where the Red propagandists are blowing hard on the coals of nationalism to start a fire which, the Kremlin fondly hopes, will make relations pleasantly warm for Russia and leave the U. S. and Britain out in the cold.

Russian-sponsored "peace" and "neutrality" campaigns and "national liberation" movements—high-sounding names for cold war—have gained momentum since Iran's nationalization of the Anglo-Iranian oil company.

Since then, Syria has rejected U. S. offers of Point Four aid, and Lebanon, which had accepted such offers, is now talking about changing its mind. Another anti-west campaign is flaring up in Egypt, which has become openly hostile in telling England to get out of the Suez Canal zone.

All these danger signals increase the importance of a settlement in Iran that will preserve vital oil supplies for the west and, at the same time, cool off some of the Russian-fanned anti-west sentiment.

Britain's bulldog stubbornness has been more fuel for the Russian fire. We were slow to get into the picture, although Iran, early in the crisis, asked the U. S. to step in and help figure out a settlement.

Now W. Averell Harriman, acting as an oil mediator from the U. S., seems to have made good progress. He has gotten the British to agree to send a mission to Iran to discuss settlement.

This in itself doesn't mean agreement, of course. But it does indicate a break in the stubborn British attitude that Iran would come running to give in once the oil royalties stopped flowing into the coffers.

And if the talks now scheduled between the British and the Iranian leaders in Tehran result in a little yielding by both sides and thus end the dispute, it will be more than just saving vital oil for the free world's defenses in Europe. It will also take a lot of fire out of Russia's hot propaganda campaign in the Near East.

GEARS FOR GONDOLAS? (Christian Science Monitor)

We are not antimachinists. We do not pretend that we can distinguish a hand-made doughnut from a machine-made one. We readily admit that we prefer a vacuum cleaner to brooms and dustcloths. But when we heard that the gondolas in Venice are to be fitted with outboard motors we threw up our hands in horror.

A motorized gondola is no gondola, and a Venice without gondolas is no Venice. Ecco!

The two hallmarks of the gondola are the gondolier and the noiselessness of its gliding over the waters. It is impossible to think of a gondola without visualizing the gondolier standing in the stern of the boat swaying gracefully as he moves the oar backwards and forwards in what seems an effortless rhythm. As a power source he can be replaced by an engine; as a picture he cannot, nor as a singer, friend and repository of folklore and local history.

And who would like to have the charm of a night ride through Venice spoiled by the chugging of a motor? The whispered conversations of the waves drowned in the puffing of an exhaust?

With its traditional gondolas Venice was a wonderful place where one could move leisurely forward into the past. Future tourists sitting in motorized gondolas will see less of the city in a shorter time.

As usual, brother is teaching sister to swim again—brother and sister to somebody else.

To be "Johnny-on-the-spot" used to be a virtue—until gangsters made it a suicide.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Reason behind the alarming war-warnings made by Secretary of Defense Marshall and Army Secretary Pace is the latest intelligence from the Balkans. This reports, among other things, that Communist medical units have arrived along the Bulgarian-Yugoslav border.

Medical units do not participate in ordinary troop maneuvers. They are the last to arrive before military action begins.

Maneuvers along the Yugoslav border in themselves may not mean much. They have been going on for months, and when I visited the Bulgarian border last February, I interviewed refugees who had just escaped from behind the Iron Curtain with news of new Russian concentrations in certain areas. However, latest U. S. intelligence indicates that this has increased.

Bulgaria's army of around 200,000 men is now reported equipped with Soviet combat vehicles, heavy artillery, and new type of fighter plane more powerful than the Yak. The Bulgur army is under General Atanasov, a Soviet citizen trained in Russia, though of Bulgarian origin. His command post has been moved from Sofia to the field.

All along the Rumanian and Bulgarian sides of the Yugoslav border, a strip of land has been completely cleared and a Siegfried line of pillboxes built behind it. This could be part of the war of nerves against Tito, or it could mean that the Kremlin is ready to give Tito the bizzness. Late August or September, after the harvest is in, always has been the time when dictators get trigger-happy.

CRIME PROBE STYMIED

Senator Carl Hayden of Arizona, one of the most conscientious and respected members of the Senate has taken a strange stand regarding the crime committee. It puzzles his colleagues in the Senate.

As chairman of the powerful Senate rules committee, Hayden has flatly refused to authorize more money to be spent on the crime probe. This has caused the crime committee, now chairmanned by conscientious Herbert O'Connor of Maryland, to withdraw its investigators from New York and other areas. It also means that the committee will have to wind up its work around September.

If Hayden were not such a respected member of the Senate, his colleagues would suspect that pressure had been brought from certain political elements in touch with the hoodlums who base around Phoenix. That city has been one of the centers for the illicit narcotic trade that comes up from Mexico.

Three times Senator Hayden has been approached by senators who asked for more funds for the crime probe. Each time he has refused. Under senatorial courtesy, Hayden, as chairman of the rules committee, has the power to recommend funds for all Senate investigations, and if he refuses, it is difficult to go over his head.

In contrast, Hayden continues to dish out funds for all sorts of other Senate probes while throttling an investigation which has done more to clean up the big cities of the U. S. A. than anything in half a century.

WASHINGTON PIPELINE

Friends of Ex-Navy Secretary Matthews, now ambassador to Ireland, are advising him to see Eddie Dowling's new show, "Border Be Damned," if he wants to understand some of the problems North and South Ireland. Entirely aside from the political implications, the play's a smash hit.

U. S. District Judge Robert Inch of New York took the trouble to write a 13-page opinion on why he could not set aside a guilty-of-treason plea by Lt. James Monti whom this column exposed for working with the Nazis in Italy. . . In contrast, U. S. District Judge Matt McGuire in Washington slapped out an oral opinion "denied" in dismissing a petition by a coal digger to examine the books of the United Mine Workers welfare fund. George Livengood of Uniontown, Pa., was fired out of the union by John L. Lewis when he challenged some of the expenditures of the miners' welfare fund, claiming that the miners who earn the money for the fund have a right to see how the money is spent. This gets to the bottom of union rights, but quick-tempered Judge McGuire didn't even bother to explain why he denied the right to examine. . . Not even Ezra Van Horn, the mine owners' representative on the miners welfare fund, was permitted to see the books.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Escanaba — Three Escanaba teachers were among those presented with baccalaureate degrees at the close of the summer session at the Northern Michigan College of Education at Marquette. They were Esther Carlson, fourth grade at the Farr school; Elizabeth Leiper, sight-saving room, and Julia Parsons, who teaches in the junior high.

Gladstone—George Minne, of Gladstone, was reelected president and Painter Harris, of Negaunee, was re-elected secretary at the annual meeting of the Upper Peninsula District Association of Letter Carriers held Sunday morning in the Elks Temple during the annual convention in Calumet.

Manistique — The steamer Robert J. Paisley is aground within the Manistique harbor breakwater. The vessel was only 150 feet from the Girvin dock, where it had planned to unload a cargo of coal, when the ship went aground.

20 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—Miss Ellen Michaud and Miss Anna Michaud, of Wells, sisters, members of the Delta county 4-H demonstration team, left Tuesday morning for Chatham, where they will compete with teams of other counties at Camp Shaw, for the honor of representing the Upper Peninsula at the Michigan State Fair in Detroit in September.

Manistique — Masonville nosed out the Manistique Senators, 5-3, Sunday afternoon at the Masonville diamond, in the first meeting of the two nines this season. Bear and Bergman did the heavy work for the Schoolcraft county outfit, while Ebbesen and King formed the sawmill town battery.

This is the season when mosquitoes like our skin—and jump it, too.

Testing Student Brains No Longer Teachers Job; It's Big Business Now

By FRANCES LEWINE

PRINCETON, N. J.—(AP)—Making up examinations is no longer just another job for the harassed school teacher—it has become scientific big business.

More than 300,000 college students who took the recent Selective Service draft deferment tests got an idea of what modern testing is like.

If they thought the going was tough, maybe they'd like to know what the test makers went through.

The government called on the Educational Testing Service at Princeton when it wanted a mass test of college students' knowledge and ability.

Examined 7,500,000 Students

This non-profit organization, housed in a five-story, block-long brick building on Princeton's tree-lined Main street, is a three-year-old giant geared to production line test making.

Last year ETS gave exams to 7,500,000 students on subjects ranging from Russian to biochemistry. Since 1948, ETS has been making up such famous tests as the nationwide exams of the College Entrance Examination Board, admission exams for West Point, Annapolis, the Coast Guard and Merchant Marine, a cademic's Atomic Energy Commission fellowships, teacher appointment and medical, law and engineering school entrance exams.

Its contract with Selective Service is typical of ETS operations.

On a huge map of the United States, ETS experts pinpointed 1,036 centers, mostly schools and colleges, where the exams could be given. They arranged for recommended school administrators supervise the test according to ETS specifications.

While the administrative details of mailing 1,500,000 instructions, admission cards and printed exams were being worked out, a separate group went to work on the questions.

All Honor Graduates

First they held conferences to decide the scope of the tests. Next, on a quiet floor, honeycombed with small two-desk offices, the brain trust of 25 question-makers got busy.

All honor graduates, the majority with masters or doctor's degrees, this staff works out the tough multiple-choice puzzles. Each of the question-makers is an expert in some field.

They work long and hard to see that each question is properly worded to avoid confusion to the student, yet sufficiently difficult to test his ability to handle college work.

The test question itself has to pass a test. ETS tries out each new problem in an experimental examination. If too many of the better students select the wrong answers, the query is confusing and need revising.

If the answer question passes its test, it is ready to go into a new exam or become part of the ETS stockpile.

Selective Service Test

The Selective Service test was assembled from such carefully selected questions and was carefully checked by the ETS staff. Then, ready for use and under security wraps, it was dispatched to a trusted printer and readied for shipment to the test centers.

With each test go answer sheets and mechanical pencils with special lead which activates the scoring machines.

The mailing operations of ETS take up two large rooms and a special clerical staff. Returning exams have to be counted and checked off against the names of students. Even the returning lead pencils are carefully tabbed. ETS keeps one man busy full time keeping its stock of 76,000 pencils in operating shape.

Each test sheet, with its lead-blackened answer squares, gets a personal inspection as it starts through the grading machinery. Stray pencil marks are erased so they won't confuse the sensitive equipment. ETS has 24 special international Business machines for scoring exams, the largest number collected under one roof in the country.

Answer sheets slip into a slot in the desk-like machine, an operator presses a button and a needle indicator flashes the grade.

A total of 15,000 to 18,000 exams can be graded daily by ETS' battery of machines. But each exam is run through two machines and a spot check is made by hand to assure against errors.

Rain On The Roof Makes Unforgettable Music

There is music in this world that harmonizes with deep feelings in the heart. Man, concerned with confusing details and struggling to make a living in competition with his fellows, sometimes grows callous and forgets the music is around him. Winds blow and leaves whisper in the trees; a brook comes singing down from the highlands on its way to the sea. Sit for a time in a sun-blessed meadow and you can hear the ceaseless thrumming symphony of bees and insects. In deepening evening dusk the crickets chant and katydids scratch against the darkness while first pale - gold stars break through the blue-black overhead canopy.

There is pleasant music when rain falls on the roof in summer. It strikes a doubly responsive chord when a drought has been holding for a period; pastures turn brown and soil is dust-dry in the fields; grass leaves curl and creeks become slow trickles. Gray dust coats leaves by the roadsides as day after day a burning sun courses a washed-blue bowl of sky. Then one day cirrus clouds tangle in the sky and gradually thicken to stratus; they in turn mass into nimbus and as day ends there's a hushed expectancy over the land. Robins begin to call for rain and the crickets' chorus increases its tempo.

As Night draws on, a light, exploring breeze begins to freshen. Whippoorwills cry in the darkness and the lonesome, drawn-out whistle of the night train carries far in the moist air. Suddenly, one hears the first scattered drops of rain on the roof, like muffled drum beats introducing the slow movement of a great symphony. Minute by minute the music swells in volume. In half an hour the rain has settled in - a good rain, unhurried, gentle - the kind that soaks Earth's dry crust slowly so the humus will absorb it. There are men and women in cities who can remember their rooms beneath the roofs of farmhouses and the rain music that lulled them to sleep. Music on the roof means moisture for billions of plant roots; it means fresh, clean foliage on the trees. Human hearts sing when rain makes music on a roof after a drought.

Mountain Brooks

They are born on craggy, thin-soiled highlands where rocks and cliffs are weather-furrowed by the winds of centuries, and stunted birches, oaks and evergreens fight for life. Never-failing springs break to the surface from faults in underground veins and the water trickles slowly downward through the belts of trees and shrubs. Small streams join their waters and sing their way to the lowlands where rivers flow toward a distant sea.

A mountain brook runs singing from one small waterfall to the next each leaping cascade makes a picture of gray-lace foam before the current takes hold and the water flows forward to the next drop. Larger rocks in the stream bed are often covered with moist, densely-growing green moss; in shallow bays and pools along the edges, warblers and vireos come to bathe at sundown and silver-sided minnows flash back and forth through the daylight hours.

Tall trees shade the brook along its way and sun rays piercing the overhead canopy are mullioned shafts of golden light. Tall ferns lean over the undercut banks; beside the waterfalls the green fronds move back and forth in the cool air currents. In quiet-water stretches there are glints of red and brown, amber and chestnut in the stones and pebbles. Now in summer a warbler or vireo occasionally tosses a few bars of sweet music through the woods; when Day surrenders to Night the hermit thrushes sing their beautiful requiems in the thickening dusk. A brook is a part of the great plan of Nature—a balance among giant forces that maintain plant and animal life on our planet. Waters run from the heights to the lowlands and then to the sea. Moisture rises into the air and returns to Earth as rain. Some of the water that flows through Earth's veins seeks again the sunlight and open air. This stream through the woods is only a small brook from the mountainside, but in its music there is something man needs to balance the harsh cacophony he has created in his daily environment.—By Hayden Pearson.

So They Say

Despite its (U. S. democracy's) blindness about race, it had yet given its citizens more work, higher living standards more education more freedom of speech and thought and belief and more flexible means of expressing their differences and calling attention to and meeting their needs than had any other government in man's history.—Lillian Smith noted southern author

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

CAMP SHAW — In 420 homes in 13 counties of the Upper Peninsula 4-H club boys and girls are settling down to the routine of farm and household chores again after the past week at Camp Shaw.

Camp Shaw, if you don't know, is Michigan State college sponsored for Upper Peninsula young people and this is its 32nd consecutive year. It is a part of MSC agricultural experiment station, Chatham, in Alger county.

We visited Camp Shaw for its traditional guest night program Thursday evening, returning with certain impressions—all favorable to the 4-H club program.

AMONG FRIENDS—Fred Bernhardt, Delta county 4-H agent, greeted us as we arrived at camp. With him was Mel Nyquist, former Delta 4-H agent, now agricultural agent of Marquette county.

And inside the porch quadrangle of Camp Shaw (the buildings form a square large as a city block enclosing a grassy area) we shook hands with Ben Westrate, assistant state 4-H club leader in the Upper Peninsula.

Fred, Mel and Ben—all from Delta county, really. For Ben was 4-H agent here before he stepped up the ladder and moved to U. P. offices in Marquette. Delta apparently is a proving ground for 4-H talent.

FOR BETTER LIVING—At supper we sat at the same table with more Marquette folks—George Bishop, secretary-manager of the U. P. Development Bureau, and (among others) Ben DeVoe, former Marquette Chamber of Commerce secretary, now connected with the state branch prison staff there.

With traditional dignity and warmth Bishop spoke to the 4-H boys and girls. One of the phrases lingered—

"America needs strong young people—for better living."

Here was a philosophy as new as the United Nations and as shining as hope for world peace: Strength—not for destruction—but for better living.

NEW YORK AND PARIS—To girls in 4-H nothing equals their interest in clothing project, culminating in dress revue when they have the opportunity to model the garments of their own making.

Lights centered on the stage where a huge fan opened—and closed to reveal a 4-H girl attired becomingly for the afternoon. "It is the world of fashion—let us take you to New York—to Paris—" said the woman's voice over the public address system.

Blue jeans and saddle shoes and freckles—yet when these girls of Camp Shaw posed and turned and smiled you could believe in a world of fashion, in feminine gloves and graceful models, in the recreation of a buyer's market at a fashion show.

Open and close, open and close went the fan, each time revealing another 4-H girl in another costume. School clothes of ginghams, swim suits, robes and pajamas, evening gowns, suits, dresses and accessories of hats and gloves and bags.

Charm on the farm? No, just the average American girl doing something for herself as part of her 4-H club clothing project.

THE LARGER GROUP — Traditional candlelighting ceremony followed the following fashion show, beginning on the stage and ending around a campfire in the quadrangle.

Ben Westrate spoke briefly, emphasizing the significance of the ceremony.

"I saw you come to Camp Shaw, one of your club group, meeting other club members on the bus. Here you became acquainted with more members, widening your horizon, until tonight we join in lighting our candles of friendship—more than 400 of us."

With lighted candles the 4-H members filed from the hall and gathered for the campfire, their young voices blinding in song.

The fire died to embers. The songs ended. Camp Shaw session of 1951 was history—but its imprint remains in heads for better thinking, hearts for greater loyalty, hands for larger service, and health for better living.

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby Jr.

PUNCTUATION MADE EASY The Apostrophe (')

1. Use the apostrophe to indicate possession, as: The girl's hat; it was John's idea; they played children's games; this is the boy's room; he liked Jane's singing.

2. Do not use an apostrophe with such possessive pronouns as: hers, theirs, yours, etc. Wrong: "her's; their's; your's; it's."

3. Here are the rules for forming plurals and possessives of names ending with the sound of "s" or "z":

Plurals: add -es, as: All the Joneses were there; the Williamses live next door; the Harrises are friends of ours.

Possessive Singulars: add -s, as: This is John Jones's book; we read Alice's poem; Charles's rank is higher than Harris's.

Possessive Plurals: add ' to the plural form, as: The Joneses' cousins are related to the Williamses' relatives in New York. The Matthewses' ancestors were English. The Rosses' house is across the street.

Other correct forms: Montgomery Ward's store; my sister-in-law's house; my sisters-in-law's houses; one's own opinion; neither's property; an hour's wait; four months' leave of absence; they shook each other's hand.

There is no rule that nouns ending in "s," "ss," or "x," must form the possessive by adding the apostrophe only. On the other hand, good texts state that common and proper nouns ending in "s" or an "ss" sound form the possessive by adding -s thus: Jones's, Davis's, Dickens's," etc. While "Mr. Jones' house; the boss' office," look all right in print, they sound queer when read aloud, because one cannot pronounce an apostrophe.

This should be a great reason for squirrels. Lots of folks think the whole world is nuts.

Truman Can't Win Feud With Douglas

PRESIDENT TRUMAN has placed himself in an extremely awkward position by feuding with Democratic Senator Douglas of Illinois over the filling of federal judgeship vacancies in that state.

Chicago and northern Illinois lawyers, polled as to their preferences, have voted in favor of the Douglas slate of candidates and against Mr. Truman's choices. Douglas said his course of action would be guided by the poll results. It can be expected, therefore, that he will now seek the support of his Senate colleagues in opposing the president's candidates.

This aid almost certainly will be forthcoming, since Senate tradition dictates that senators stand together solidly in these matters. When Mr. Truman nominated two judges of his own choice and ignored the Douglas recommendations, he flouted one of the most cherished Senate customs.

The United States Code states that the president shall appoint federal judges "with the advice and consent of the Senate." Through long years, "advice" has come to mean the advice of the senators from the state where the appointment is to be made.

Not often have presidents failed to observe the courtesy of respecting a senator's counsel. But in this instance Mr. Truman has chosen to do so.

All reports agree the president was angered by evidences of Douglas' party "irregularity." He frequently trumpets for government economy in a way that seems to reflect on the soundness of Mr. Truman's budget estimates.

He took part in the Senate inquiry into the RFC, a probe that deeply embarrassed the administration. Recently he conducted an investigation into government ethics, and there were more aspersions cast on administration morals.

Douglas called for Secretary of State Acheson's resignation on the ground he was a "war casualty." And he has let it be known he favors General Eisenhower for the 1952 Democratic nomination, if Mr. Truman himself is not a candidate.

None of this behavior is calculated to endear him to the president, who puts great store by party loyalty and regularity. Douglas has pointed out in vain that he votes with the administration about 80 per cent of the time. His assurances of basic loyalty apparently have been shrugged off.

One may seriously question the wisdom of alienating a senator who so faithfully backs the president most of the time, simply because he insists on showing a certain independence of mind. Is this the way to encourage brave statesmanship on Capitol Hill?

Seaway Fight Shifts To U. S. Senate

SENATOR MOODY of Michigan has joined with Senator Aiken of Vermont in introducing in the upper chamber new legislation for the St. Lawrence seaway project. The action keeps alive efforts in this session of Congress to get authorization for American participation in the navigation-power project.

The House public works committee recently refused to approve a bill to develop the waterway between Canada and the United States. The Moody-Aiken action moves the seaway fight to the Senate.

Even if the proponents of the seaway are unsuccessful in getting congressional approval of the project at this session, gains can be made for ultimate authorization if the issue can reach a roll call vote in the Senate. At least such a vote would show who the friends and the enemies are of a project that means so much to the entire nation and, of course, particularly to the Great Lakes states.

What To Buy?

By Gordon Martin

In your years of wedded bliss, a lot of errands you have run, and you've carted home most everything there is beneath the sun. For your wife will phone the office and remind you every day, of some things that you can buy for her along your homeward way. And today, it seems, while washing, she had trouble unforeseen, and she wants a brand new roller for her suds and duds machine.

So a roller for the wringer you set out to try and find, and you have to check a bunch of stores to find the proper kind. But at last you buy the one you want and board a crowded bus, and your aching feet are trampled and beneath your breath you cuss. And arriving home an hour late, you tell of all your strife, as you hand that blasted roller to your puzzled little wife.

Why, she says, this isn't what I wanted you to buy for me, for it's surely not a roller, any fool can plainly see. Then she takes you to the basement and it's there you view the crime—'twas a caster, not a roller, that she wanted all the time! So you tear your hair and wonder at the terms a dame will use, and you think that as an errand boy, you've blown your final fuse.

Wilson Favors 40-Hour Week

Urges Premium Pay For Overtime

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson is opposed to any lengthening of the 40-hour work week. He said Saturday that the present time-and-a-half pay premium for overtime boosts worker morale and defense production might be upped if the basic 40-hour week was lengthened, without premium pay.

Wilson warned in a statement that any such change would "disrupt the wage stabilization program and industrial relations generally." He expressed the opinion that labor unions would agitate for higher basic pay rates if overtime premiums were eliminated.

Wilson, a government production official during World War II, said experience during the war demonstrated that excessively long work hours lowered efficiency.

Airplanes Collide, Only Light Damage

HARRISON, N. Y.—(P)—A Marine Corps airplane and a private craft collided above an airport yesterday, causing one plane to lose its engine, the other a wheel.

The pilots made skilful crash landings with injury to only one of five persons involved.

Both ships had signalled for landings at Westchester county airport near here. The Marine plane, ordered to land first, came in over the private ship, a four-seater cessna.

Bandman Armstrong Escapes From Fire

HULL, Quebec — (P) — Band Leader Louis Armstrong escaped from a hotel and dance pavilion fire here yesterday in which one person was killed and at least six others were injured.

Rafael Gomez, 22, of New York, a drummer with the Lazero Quinteto trio which is engaged at another night spot, was killed. Jonita Hempe, 24, also of New York, a singer with the trio, was reported missing but later turned up in Montreal.

Dismissed Cadets Subject To Draft

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Cadets being discharged from West Point for violation of the honor code will become immediately subject to the draft on the same basis as any other youths, a selective service official said today.

Their West Point service will not count one way or the other, he said.

The spokesman said "they will have the same status as anybody else 18½ to 26 years old, with eligibility for deferment on the same grounds, if they have any such grounds."

Hardship or dependency grounds for deferment in the cases of the West Pointers are not likely, the official commented.

But the possibility exists that some of them might get into defense-essential employment before draft boards get to them.

'Reign Of Terror' Blamed On Arabs

CAIRO, Egypt—(P)—The exiled grand mufti of Jerusalem, Haj Amin El Hussein, has accused Jordan's Arab Legion of a "reign of terror" against Palestinian Arabs.

He told newsmen yesterday that the Legion, led by British Gen. John Glubb Pasha, has conducted massacres and looting since the assassination of King Abdullah July 20. He denied that he or his family, bitter enemies of Abdullah, had anything to do with the shooting.

Reports from Jordan described the king's killer as a follower of the mufti.

Asks Stalin Halt Jamming of Radio

WASHINGTON — (P) — Rep. Flood (D-Pa.) has challenged Marshal Stalin to halt Russia's jamming of the Voice of America long enough to allow President Truman to tell the Russian people about America's program for peace and prosperity.

Flood suggested Saturday that the jamming be stopped for "one hour on a given day." The Russians have been jamming, or making inaudible through noise interference, many "voice" broadcasts aimed at Russia.

Unwritten Laws Of The Road

No. 19: On Slippery Pavement Start To Stop Earlier For The Benefit Of The Car Behind.

Some drivers advertise their ignorance by saying "I can stop on a dime." Actually, you would need 1,296 dimes laid end to end to stop at 25 miles per hour. This 67½ feet is the least you can do with perfect brakes, good tires, and dry pavement. The professional driver knows his stopping distance on slippery pavement. He also knows that the driver behind him may not have the same knowledge. He signals his intention to stop much farther back than he would need in order to begin and complete his own stop. Because of a car behind him, he spreads his stop out over a longer distance to give the car behind more room in which to stop.

Sen. Wayne Morse Kicked By Horse

HARRISONBURG, Va.—(P) — Senator Wayne Morse (R-Ore.), who suffered a fractured jaw when he was kicked by a horse at a horse show near here Saturday, was expected to return to Washington today. He was treated at a hospital here. His office in the capitol said it is not known when the Senator will be able to resume his duties.

Beery's Daughter Going Into Movies

HOLLYWOOD — (P) — Wallace Beery's adopted daughter goes before the cameras today for the first time.

Carol Ann Beery, 20, says she won her chance in the movies on her own ability. "I had offers from many of daddy's friends," she said, "but I felt that wasn't the right way to begin."

Miss Beery, one of the major heirs to Beery's $2,000,000 estate, has a part in "Thief of Damascus." She studied drama in New York the past two years.

Bodies Of Korean Dead Are Sought

WASHINGTON—(P)—Special military teams are making a continuous sweep of Korean battle-grounds to recover and identify the bodies of American soldiers left on the scene.

This was disclosed Saturday by Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), chairman of an appropriations subcommittee holding hearings on defense costs. A $350,000 fund for "search and recovery" operations has been asked by the army's quartermaster corps.

FBI fingerprint files, scientific experts and Korean laborers are being used in the project.

Says U. N. Promotes 'Socialized Housing'

WASHINGTON — (P) — The National Association of Real Estate boards has charged that the United Nations is promoting "socialized housing on an international scale."

"This appears to us as an improper function of the U. N.," Association President Alexander Summer of Newark, N. J., wrote Saturday in a letter to Ambassador Warren Austin, the chief U. S. Delegate to the U. N.

Summer said "it is astonishing to us that the only Americans whose ideas and suggestions appear in the U. N. housing bulletin are government employees, college professors and persons active in promoting socialized housing in the United States."

Eight Are Killed In Train Wreck

FORD JUNCTION, Eng.—(P)—At least eight persons were killed and more than 50 injured in a holiday train crash here yesterday.

The electric locomotive of a southbound train smashed into the rear of another electric train which was standing in the station and in this hamlet 50 miles southwest of London. Several coaches of the stopped train were telescoped.

The victims were mostly vacationers headed for the seashore to spend the August bank holiday.

Little Waistline Prime Requisite For Fall Fashions

BY NADEANE WALKER
PARIS—The little woman with the little waistline is in luck this season, audiences at fashion show openings noted.

It takes a tiny waist and a small bodice to set off to perfection the tight-waisted, small-topped, bell-skirted silhouette which so far has been a favorite with Fath, Griffe and Rochas.

Of course there were slim-skirted dresses too, but for afternoon, cocktail and evening wear the skirts run to yards and yards of material usually held out by stiffened petticoats.

Materials Rich
Parisian audiences have never seen richer fashion materials. Gold and silver metallic brocades, heavy satins and velvets, embroidered velvets and jet, or jeweled sprinkled silks lend themselves naturally to oriental influences and to romantic great-skirted ball gowns.

Fath yesterday brought the hem down to between 14 and 15 inches from the floor—not as long by several inches as the "new look", but many spectators thought his dresses recalled in other ways Dior's post-war silhouette. For example, there were several petal skirts.

Schiaparelli and Lanvin are the major houses showing today. Dior's always eagerly awaited collection will open Monday and the high fashion season will continue with several major showings daily until Balenciaga's collection winds up the top-bracket group on August 6.

Browns, beiges, greys and muted colors are more popular this year than the brighter shades.

History Inspiration
Paris designers are always turning to history for inspiration and this time they have brought back to favor such shades of the past as "Spencers" (false packets cut in one with the blouse back but with turnback fronts), "Berthas" (deep-yoked collars, guimpe sleeves, set-in, wined at the top, narrow at the cuff).

Such diverse influences as George Sands—neat high riding top knot and tight basque jackets—and bathshebas—hooded cocoon-shaped cape coat—have been used by Fath and Griffe.

Spanish galleons of the 15th-17th Centuries served as both war and merchant ships.

Liota Stratton's Career Described In Tribune Story

Of unusual interest to Escanaba residents is the story in today's Chicago Daily Tribune telling of the career of Miss Liota Stratton, a daughter of Mrs. Edward Stratton of Kipling and a former resident of Escanaba.

The story, one of the "White Collar Girl" series by Ruth MacKenzie is entitled "Top Secretaries are Usual in Liota Stratton's Family" and is accompanied by a picture of Miss Stratton.

It reads:

"With one cousin Bess C. O'Neill, secretary to Mayor Martin H. Kennedy, and another cousin Loretta Heiligenthal, secretary to Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, it's not surprising Liota Stratton holds a top-ranking position. Her employer is Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club.

"I come from a secretarial family, is Miss Stratton's modest explanation of her supersecretarial clan. Taking a look at Miss Stratton, and her resourceful relatives, almost any boss would be inclined to ask: 'Are there any more at home like you?' 'There were, Miss Stratton was the eldest of seven children.

A Bookish Miss
"She grew up in Escanaba, Mich., a quiet little girl, bashful and bookish. She recalls she took out a library card when seven years old, and has been reading steadily ever since.

Her early business training was in high school in Escanaba, supplemented later by an evening course after she came to Chicago to live. She moved here primarily because she could make her home with her cousin, Miss Heiligenthal.

"This was 25 years ago. The pretty girl from the pinewood country straightway began looking for work. Her first job, with a radio battery company resulted in a summer lay off. Her second job was with an outlying coffee company. Altho it had coffee 'and spice, and everything nice' she left, as she wanted to work in the loop.

"It was then she came to the Chicago Motor Club which had just taken occupancy of the new building on E. South Water street. Today, the expanding departments of the club—serving 72 counties in Illinois, and 24 in Indiana—cover all 15 floors and overflow into an annex.

Promotion
Miss Stratton began as a stenographer in the office of J. J. Cavanaugh, executive vice president and general manager. Six years afterwards, the position of secretary to Mr. Hayes was available and she was selected for it.

"It was an admirable choice. Miss Stratton is serene and restful. She has dignity without stiffness. She is responsive and helpful toward an employer who keenly feels his obligation to a great number of people.

"Some of her youthful shyness has disappeared, because she likes to serve others, and her job offers this opportunity. She is thoroughly familiar with the function of each department, and especially enthusiastic over Mr. Hayes' safety measures.

"He is credited with doing more to foster safety patrols for school children than any one person, she says, and points proudly to the American Automobile association citation to that effect. Also, Miss Stratton is interested in the motor club training program for young drivers, and in the summer play-yards designed to keep children safely away from traffic.

Who's Calling Puleeze . . .

"She is not one to artfully wangle a name from a telephone caller. If he has called before, the chances are 10 to one she remembers both the voice and the name secretary."

ROSES FOR LINES

By Mrs. Anne Cabot

It is no trick at all to turn everyday pillowcases into lovely linens with this dainty insertion. Crochet the Irish roses in variegated pink, lavender or yellow thread and set in a sheer background of sparkling white cotton. The design makes ideal "pick-up and carry-around" work as it is easily memorized.

Pattern No. 5406 contains complete crocheting instructions, material requirements, stitch illustrations and finishing directions. Send 25c in COINS, your name, address and the PATTERN NUMBER to ANNE CABOT, Escanaba Daily Press, 372 West Quincy Street, Chicago 6, Illinois.

Class Of 1946 To Hold Reunion

The Escanaba high school class of 1946 will hold a reunion at Terrace Gardens August 18. A dinner will be served followed by an informal program. Reservations are in charge of Mrs. Don Ohman, the former Phyllis Elliott, 429 South 10th street. No reservations will be accepted after August 14.

She is efficient in sifting and directing phone calls; enjoys Mr. Hayes' friendly dictation, likewise his radio talks.

"She has friends north, south, east, and west; her travels turn other W. C. G.'s green with envy. A few years ago she made a trip to Hawaii with her employer's wife and daughter; this fall she is flying to Mexico.

"Within reach of her desk is a cabinet filled with old automobile data. As long ago as 1915 there were 5,100 copies of a pamphlet distributed among teachers: Things You Must Know For Safety. You See, it's not a new project she says. But through the years the motor club continues to work at it, headed by Mr. Hayes and aided by his sympathetic

PBX SystemSwitchboard Is In City Hall

Installation of a new PBX telephone switchboard at the city hall was completed Friday, it is announced by H. W. Heideman, city manager.

The board is located in the main city hall office and is being operated by one of the office girls.

The board has two direct connections with the central switchboard of the Michigan Associated Telephone company, located upstairs in the Alvin Nelson building, and provides eight lines to other city phones.

During the day time incoming and outgoing calls from the following city telephones are channeled through the switchboard: Pumping station, city shop, justice court, city police, fire chief, city treasurer, city clerk and city manager.

The switchboard can be reached through the central telephone system by calling numbers 132 or 113. The first is the former city hall number and the second is the previous police number.

During the night when the city switchboard is not in operation, number 113 is reconnected directly with the city police office and number 132 is directly connected with the pumping station, city shop and city manager's office. Other connections on the city board are "dead" at night.

Another direct connection is maintained from the telephone company switchboard to the fire hall for fire calls. The former number, 93, is being retained. Any fire call made to 93, day or night, will bring direct connection with the city fire department.

Although the switchboard is located in the city general office, it is proposed to move it to the fire department office if and when a two-way radio system is installed by the city, Heideman said.

Shrine Day To Be Held HereEvent Planned
For August 18

Plans for "Shrine Day" in Manistique on August 18 were made at a meeting of the Hiawatha Shrine Club Friday evening.

Uniformed units of Ahmed Temple, Marquette, will demonstrate their work for public inspection in street parades and at the Hall stadium as a phase of the program, it is announced.

Shriners are expected to present one of the most colorful spectacles seen in the community during their maneuvers, it is reported.

The local club also elected the following officers for the fiscal year: President, John S. Wilde; vice president, Fred M. Hahn; secretary, Arthur Thorp; treasurer, Howard Hewitt.

120 Youngsters
Taking Regular
Part In Baseball

Approximately 120 youngsters up to 17 years of age are playing baseball five days weekly in the city recreation program, it is reported by T. H. Reque, director.

Juvenile baseball, along with organized swimming and golf activities sponsored by the city recreation commission, gives Manistique one of the outstanding summer recreation programs for youth in the Upper Peninsula, it is believed.

In addition to the baseball activity, swimming groups are active to the Indian Lake State Park beach twice daily. Mondays through Fridays, and juvenile golfers have the use of the Indian Lake course on Tuesday and Thursday mornings every week.

Included in the baseball program are 75 mites, who are children up to 12 years of age; 24 midgets, 12 and 13 years; and 14 juniors, 14 to 17 years. This number of youngsters reports regularly for play, but more are enrolled in the program. Some of the youngsters, however, do not turn out regularly.

30-35 Boats To Be In FestivalMotorboat Plans
Announced Here

Between 30 and 35 motorboats from the Upper Peninsula and northern Wisconsin are expected to take part in the motorboat racing program at Indian Lake during the VFW water festival next Sunday, August 12, it is announced by LeRoy Hamilton, of Gladstone, secretary-treasurer of the Upper Peninsula Outboard Racing association.

There will be entries in all classes which include A, B, C, D-E, and open, Hamilton said here Saturday.

American Power Boat association regulations will govern all races, he said.

Entries are expected from the following towns: Upper Peninsula—Sault Ste. Marie, Cedarville, Gladstone, Escanaba, Kingsford, Iron Mountain, Ironwood, Marquette, Michigamme, Ishpeming, Newberry, Manistique; northern Wisconsin—Eagle River, Hortonville, Green Bay, Land O' Lakes.

Clyde Chartier is expected to have the lone entry from Manistique.

Other features of the program will be swimming, canoe races, canoe tripping, and probably a colorful water parade. The festival will be held at the Arrowhead Inn property.

Miss Joan Sheahan, of Manistique, will reign over the festival as queen.

Varied Business
At Meeting Of
Rapid River Board

RAPID RIVER — Mrs. Murray Cole, secretary of the school board of Rapid River school district announced that the regular meeting of the board was held Wednesday evening, August 1. All members were present and also Superintendent Walter Peters.

The usual routine business was transacted, during which the treasurer, Richard Johnston reported an adequate balance in the school treasury.

Discussions centered around the resurfacing of the playground with fine gravel, the levelling to be done by Delbert Mosier and the black topping of the area immediately south of the building. This will be accomplished within the next few weeks.

Motions were presented and carried to the effect that a visual aid program and an auditorium program will be subsidized by funds appropriated by the board for the next school year.

Additional playground equipment will be purchased immediately for the rural schools and the local school. This will consist of swings and teeters suitable for the younger children.

The purchase of next years supply of coal from the Delta Coal and Dock Company was authorized along with certain recommended repairs of the coal bin.

Contracts for the bus drivers for next year were signed as well as a contract for the chief custodian, Herbert Olson.

Superintendent Walter Peters reported that all teachers are now hired except one, a music teacher, and he has several applicants for that position. He also informed the board that the boys' shower and dressing room is in the process of being painted at the present time. Other extensive cleaning and repair features have already been accomplished.

If necessary another meeting will be held before school resumes, otherwise the next meeting is scheduled for September 12.

Being Under Water
Can't Hurt Matches
If in Marble Box

Another bit of evidence of the quality of the equipment produced by the Marble Arms and Mfg. Co., was received here Saturday when in the mail was a waterproof match box which had been picked off the bottom of a western creek by some sportsman. The ring on the box was badly rusted giving evidence that it had been underwater for some time.

Accompanying the box was a note from the finder, Victor Wiley, Powell Butte, Ore., which reads as follows:

"Dear Sirs:
Attached is a match holder found in Tumals Creek here in Oregon. You can see it had lain there quite some time for the ring is badly rusted, yet the matches are dry. Here it is, just as it was found. A fine product I thought perhaps you'd like it to know how one fisherman feels about a good match holder.

When it arrived Cliff Murker opened it and removed a match which lighted without trouble.

Claude Hawkins, advertising manager of the firm, said that this is but one of a number of similar instances which are brought to their attention each year.

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

Here's a big one that didn't get away... Casting from the Chocoy River bank, near Marquette, two Detroit fishermen hit the jackpot last week... Cass Kapala and Leo Augustine were tossing in their plugs when Kapala hooked onto something that felt like a kitchen stove... It turned out to be a 21-pound northern pike that measured 42½ inches in length... It took both men to drag the monster in... The lucky angler used a Daredevil lure.

Russ Hiltonen evened his record in the Wisconsin State league last week by hurling the Oshkosh Giants to a 20-4 win over Fond du Lac... Russ allowed nine hits as his mates battered five Panther pitchers for 14 hits.

Ray Poat, former major league hurler, was a visitor in Gladstone last week... Poat pitched in the big leagues from 1942 through 1949, working for Cleveland, the New York Giants and Pittsburgh... While in the big show, Poat won 22 decisions while losing 30.

Tri-County Baseball league managers Friday night asked Russ Simmons to reconsider his recent resignation as league commissioner... The managers, sitting as a board of directors at Wilson, also decided that the Perronville-Wallace wrangle should be decided on the playing field... The teams will meet in a double-header at Wallace on Labor Day... The two clubs have yet to meet on the field this season, with rain and misunderstandings causing two meetings to be missed.

The Rotary Little League baseball team members were guests at the Rotary's noon luncheon today at the Delta Hotel... A dozen young ball players attended with Larry Erickson, manager, and Karl Dickson, league commissioner... Other Little League entries are sponsored by Lions, St. Joe Boosters and Kiwanis.

Deadline for entry in the Upper Peninsula Golf Association tournament at Ashland and Mellen courses is today... Defending champion is Jack Miller of St. Ignace... Recent titleholders before Miller were Tom Messinger of Houghton in 1949, Ray Hirm of Escanaba in 1948 and Don Feller of Escanaba in 1947 and 1946.

Is Hal On Way Out This Year?

NEW YORK — (AP) — Hal Newhouse reached the end of his trail?

That's the question being asked around the American League.

Right now Newhouse, once the greatest southpaw pitcher in baseball, has a sore arm. At 30, he can't pitch a lick and Detroit Tiger manager Red Rolfe didn't use him on the eastern trip which closed yesterday. Newhouse hasn't pitched in over three weeks.

Detroit trainer Joe Homel believes Hal has capsule trouble in his left shoulder. A capsule is a protective membrane.

To Visit Doctors

Newhouse hopes to find out what can be done about his shoulder during the Tigers' home stand which opens today. He'll visit a couple of Detroit specialists.

"I think there's plenty of pitching left in my arm," says Newhouse. "It's just matter of time. I first hurt the shoulder pitching an exhibition game against the Yankees in St. Petersburg in the spring of 1950. But it came around."

Rolfe misses Hal but he has hopes for his comeback "because Newhouse last spring looked better to me than he had ever looked in my three years as manager."

Mates Bench

"I feel terrible about not being able to help the team," says Hal. "I wake up grouchy in the morning and hate to sit on the bench in the afternoon. If I could pitch maybe we could get into the first division for some of that world series money. We lost Art Nourseman to the army, then we lost young Ray Herbert. And now this."

"No, I don't think I'm running out of victories. Last spring the shoulder gave me a little trouble in Florida but I pitched opening day and Cleveland's Bob Lemon

Wonder If Army Coach Will Resign Position

WEST POINT, N. Y. — (AP) — The question of whether Col. Earl (Red) Blaik will resign as army's head football coach was tossed about in sports circles today as the result of the order dismissing 90 cadets—many of them his top gridiron stars—for cheating in examinations.

The army steadfastly has refused to name names. But well founded reports said 40 or more football players were among the 90 involved in the scandal that rocked the United States military academy.

Two of the players who figured prominently in Blaik's plans for another great army team have said they are among the cadets ordered dismissed.

Three Clear

Three others have disclosed through their parents that they were not connected with the violation of the academy's sacrosanct honor code.

But, if reports are true, Blaik's varsity squad has been ripped asunder. Graduation last spring took 10 of the team that rolled through 28 straight victories before losing to Navy 14-2 last fall. And now the dismissal order, taking players that figured to again make the Black Knights the feared power of the gridiron.

beat us with a two-hitter, 2-1." A ninth-inning error cost Detroit the game. In May, Newhouse won four straight, beating the Red Sox twice.

"The shoulder trouble returned in mid-June on our trip to Yankee stadium when we lost 2-0 to Vic Raschi," Hal said. "I went only four innings. It has hurt me ever since. I was out of action 17 days. On July 4 we beat Chicago, 6-3, but I got by on my head more than on my arm. Then I worked in the bullpen and reinjured the arm warming up."

That was only July 8 against Cleveland. Coming in for a relief stint, Newhouse's first three pitches to Dale Mitchell were balls. On the fourth pitch Mitchell blasted a home run and Rolfe took out Detroit's former ace who has won 191 games in less than 12 seasons—better than a 16-victory-per-year.

Powers Posts 9-0 Waubung Victory

Powers proved a poor host to Gladstone yesterday afternoon in Waubung league play and turned in a 9-0 victory over the junior Redskins.

Ray Wells graced the Powers mound and threw a sparkling two-hitter as Powers chalked up its fourth win against four losses in league play. Wells fanned 13 batsmen.

The teams will meet again tomorrow evening in a makeup clash at Gladstone.

Little League Champs Benefit Game Tonight

Little League all-stars will face the Little League state champions this evening at 7 o'clock at Memorial field in a benefit game.

The proceeds will be placed in the fund to help finance the trip to the district tournament at Ft. Wayne, Ind., this week.

Following the Little League clash will be a softball game between the Tim & Sally and Delta Hardware girls teams. It will be the first of a best two of three series for the city championship.

Bark River And Bears Cop Wins

One-Hitter Tossed By Ray Menard

Escanaba edged Perronville 3-2 yesterday afternoon while Bark River was administering a 6-0 defeat to Powers in Tri-County play.

The Bears won on a ninth-inning homer by Chuck Meyers and Charles Camps on base. Perronville had scored singletons in the sixth and eighth innings to hold a 2-1 lead at the time. The four-bagger was the second of the game, Bob Dufour having belted one in the fourth to give the Bears their other run.

Harold Charlevoix pitched Foster City to a 2-2 win over Daggett yesterday. He homered in the sixth with one on and Harold Johnson belted a four-bagger in the third with two on.

At Bark River, Garis Fleetwood, Powers catcher, spoiled Ray Menard's no-hitter with a single between third and short in the top of the eighth. It was the only hit given up by the young right-hander.

Cubs Win

Bark River scored in the third, fourth, fifth and eighth inning to win handily.

Mel Karkkainen went the distance for the Bears, allowing only two singles. He fanned 11.

In the preliminary at the city diamond here, the Escanaba Cubs kept their Waubung league record intact with a 2-0 win over the Munising. Fred Body tossed three-hit ball for the Cubs, whiffing 19 and walking two.

Marrin scattered five hits from the Munising hill as Escanaba left 13 runners stranded on base. Six walks helped the Cubs.

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Two weeks ago you wouldn't have given a nickel for Cleveland's pennant chances. That was when the Indians, opening a vital eastern swing, dropped two straight games to the Yankees and fell 2½ games behind the league-leading New Yorkers.

But today the triumphant Tribesmen rate even money to dethrone the defending champion Yankees.

True, the homeward bound Indians still trail the New Yorkers. But the margin is now a mere half game.

Bounce Back

Cleveland bounced back after the two licks at Yankee stadium and won the final game of the series, snapping a victory famine in the Bronx that had run through 13 contests. The Indians took inspiration from that and went on to take the series in Boston, Washington and Philadelphia.

The Tribe swept the four game series with the Athletics, closing with a pair of 6-3 triumphs yesterday to make it 11 consecutive wins against the A's. They go home with a 10-4 record in the east.

In sharp contrast, the Boston Red Sox suffered a wretched home stand, for them. They divided 14 games to fall into third place, 3½ behind the Yankees. New York, Cleveland, and Boston being the latest swing in a virtual first-place tie.

Yanks Win Two
Detroit's Tigers put the finishing touches to the Red Sox' sorry home stay by winning a double header in Fenway Park, 3-1 and 8-5. That cost Boston two full games, as the Yankees whipped the St. Louis Browns, 6-2 and 4-3. The double triumph gave New York an 11-4 record against the west in its latest stand.

Chicago's fourth-place White Sox ended a poor eastern jaunt with a 6-5 victory in Washington. They return home with a 5-7 showing that cost them 4½ games to the league leaders. Trailing by only 2½ games two weeks ago, they now are seven games behind the Yanks.

The Brooklyn Dodgers continue to roll in the National League. They socked the Cincinnati Reds twice, 9-8 and 2-0, to increase their margin over the runnerup

District Softball Tournament Opens Here Tuesday, 30 Teams Play In Three Classes

The district softball tournament opens here Tuesday evening with 30 teams competing in three classes, A, B and C.

Teams are entered from Delta, Menominee and Schoolcraft counties in the tournament which will extend from Tuesday through Sunday.

Fourteen teams are entered from the Escanaba leagues, with Gladstone fielding eight entries.

Last years winners and finalists in class A were Paper Mill with Harnischfeger runners-up. Hugh's Motors won class B with Kipling runner-up and Clairmont Transfer won class C with Escanaba Steam Laundry finishing second.

Favorites

Paper Mill is again favored to retain its class A crown with White Birch a dark horse possibility. Carney and Power and Light rate the nod in class B with Kipling, winner of the Gladstone tourney, a distinct upset team. Clairmont is rated tops in class C, with Nahma, Stonington and Spaulding rating an outside

Kipling Wins In Softball Tourney

GLADSTONE — Behind the brilliant iron-man pitching of Dick Maki, Kipling scored 1-0 and 2-1 victories over Harnischfeger and Power and Light of Escanaba to win the second annual Gladstone softball tournament. Harnischfeger were defending champions.

Maki hurled a three-hitter in defeating Harnischfeger and then came back thirty minutes later to face the Power and Light team and hold them to five scattered hits.

The championship game went overtime and was decided in the ninth inning when George Mathison doubled and came in on a single by Bob Lake which bounded over third.

Late Rally

A late rally enabled Kipling to defeat the defending champs and get into the finals. With two out, Lefty Lake singled to right field, Shorty Grenier walked and George Maki singled over second with Lake racing in with the only run of the game.

The Power and Light reached the finals by defeating White Birch of Flat Rock, 6-1, with Bob Corriveau hurling a no-hitter.

Cooks Dropped From 1st Place

Manistique Takes Bay de Noc Lead

Fayette knocked Cooks out of the top spot in the Bay de Noc league yesterday afternoon by handing the former leaders a 15-4 loss.

Pete Newhouse tossed a neat six-hitter for the winners who cemented their first division berth with only two games remaining on the schedule.

Fayette had a field day at the plate, with every man in the lineup collecting at least one hit. Catcher Glenn Thill led the way with three for five as Fayette pounded Tad Demars and Orville Olson for 16 hits.

Cooks beat Garden 10-1 in the morning game.

Gas Tax Raise Hikes Revenue

60 Per Cent Jump In Collections

LANSING—(P)—The first month of gas tax collections under the 1½-cent a gallon tax increase produced a 60 per cent jump in revenues, the department of state reported today.

Deputy Secretary of State Harold E. Bradshaw said collections on June business were $7,591,172 or $2,804,000 more than the same month last year.

The 1½-cent gas tax increase voted by the 1951 legislature, bringing the tax to 1½ cents a gallon, went into effect June 1. Bradshaw said gasoline consumption has been running 10 per cent more this year than last.

MORE—The one-cent a gallon diesel fuel tax increase from five to six cents a gallon, boosted the diesel fuel revenue from $35,808 to $68,406 but inventory checks enhanced this increase.

Bradshaw estimated that the calendar year will produce $68,000,000 in motor fuel taxes compared to $52,600,000 last year.

For the first seven months of the year taxes have produced $33,473,000 compared to $26,197,000 in the same period last year.

Commissioner To Face Huge Task

NEW YORK—(P)—It is uncertain that baseball will elect a new commissioner tomorrow, but one thing is certain—if and when he is elected he will face the biggest problem ever confronted by a baseball czar.

The man who succeeds A. B. Chandler must among other things:

1—Represent baseball in the congressional investigation of the game now under way in Washington.

2—Decide what, if anything, can be done about the reserve clause, already under legal attack.

3—Attempt to work out a television and radio policy that will satisfy the minor leagues where attendance has fallen sharply.

4—Deal with the problem raised strongly in the Washington hearings of making the Pacific coast league a third major league.

Go Slow
The complexity of these problems has caused the 16 major league owners to go slow on choosing a man to replace Chandler. There is a possibility the election will occur tomorrow at their meeting here, but it is much more likely that the field will be cut down to a half dozen and then an intensive scrutiny of each candidate will start.

The "big five" considered to have the inside track for the commissionership are: General Douglas MacArthur, James A. Farley, Ford Frick, Warren Giles, and George Trautman. Not one of these has indicated he is interested in or seeking the job, yet these same names crop up in all conversations with baseball leaders.

Because baseball wants to get the right man, the salary for the big job probably will be increased to $75,000 yearly. Judge K. M. Landis, the first commissioner, received $50,000. He was elected in 1921. Chandler started at the same pay in 1945 but this was increased to $65,000 a year and one half ago.

Add Budge Patty To Davis Cup Team

RYE, N. Y.—(P)—Budge Patty of Los Angeles, 1950 Wimbledon champion, was added to the United States Davis Cup team today for the American zone finals this weekend against Canada.

America's big one-two punch—Dick Savitt of Orange, N. J., and Tony Trabert of Cincinnati—along with national champion Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., will be other members of the squad that will begin a three-match series in Montreal Friday.

The United States gained the finals by routing Mexico, 5-0, while Canada was clinching its series with Cuba yesterday. In the final singles matches at the Westchester Country Club, Herbie Flam of Los Angeles subdued Rolando Vega, 6-3, 6-3, 6-3, and Vic Seizas of Philadelphia trounced Mario Llamas, the Mexican champion, 6-3, 8-6, 6-1.

Hungary Exports 80,000 Books

BUDAPEST — (P) — Hungary exported 80,000 books last year, "Magyar Nemzet" reports. Most were sent to the Soviet Union, Communist China and other iron curtain countries, the paper reports. But others went to western Europe and both Americas. Israel is said to be an important buyer.

In some cases books sent to the west were destroyed or returned by officials of the western powers, the paper indicates.

The National Geographic Society says some sturgeon spend their entire lives in fresh water.

Rotary Club Host To Little League Baseball Players

The Escanaba Rotary club Monday noon was host to members of a Little League baseball team which it sponsors, and its manager, Lawrence Erickson, and promoter Norman Hansen.

O. V. Thatcher, Rotary program chairman, arranged the program including a moving picture story of the Little League baseball movement, growing in popularity in communities across the nation.

The boys are 8 to 12 years of age, play baseball in their communities and have the opportunity to compete in state and national league games.

Hansen described Little League as good for the boys and the community. Erickson said Escanaba is the only city in the Upper Peninsula sponsoring Little League teams.

In Escanaba teams are sponsored by Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions and St. Joseph's Boosters. The Rotary team members guests at the luncheon were as follows:

Mike Gregoire, Rick Erickson, Glen Anderson, Cliff O'Donnell, Bob Anderson, Ken Hamilton, Marvin Nault, Jack Lindquist, David Valentine, Duane Bero and Jimmy McGovern.

U. P. Gridder Is Out On Waivers

YPSILANTI, Mich. — (P)—The Detroit Lions today acquired end Bill Swiacki from the New York Giants of the National pro football league in a swap that sent two Lion guards to the Giants.

The Giants got Joe Soboleski, 25, of Grand Rapids, a member of the 1947 Michigan Rosebowl team, and recruit John Blitz, 24, of Bedford, O., an Ohio State product. The Lions bought Soboleski last year from the Washington Redskins.

The 26-year-old Swiacki was the leading pass receiver for the Giants last season. He caught 20 passes for 280 yards and three touchdowns. He went to the Giants from Columbia university three years ago. His home is in Southbridge, Mass.

Reitmeyer Waived
Lion Coach Buddy Parker is counting on the 195-pound, six feet two Swiacki to fill the shoes of star end Cloyce Box, who was called up by the Marines as a reserve officer last spring.

Swiacki is expected to arrive by plane tonight from the Giants' training camp at Saranac, N. Y. It was the fourth major player deal completed by Parker since he took over the Lions early this year.

Ten recruits were cut loose by the Lions yesterday. Waivers were asked on: Kenneth Click, end, Shawnee, Okla.; Ed Surber, guard, Sparks, Nev.; Frank Kazmierki, center, Morgantown, Pa.; Tom Cruse, guard, Cleveland, O.; Bill Reitmeyer, end, Detroit; Bob Ferri, fullback, Tuckahoe, N. Y.; and Dick Jackson, end, Wichita Falls, Tex.

The Lions also released Emmett Mulligan, Detroit halfback; Virgil Florea and Bruce Waha, a pair of back from Wayne.

Munising
Pvt. Walter Wepienik, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wepienik, of Munising, left today for Fort Lawton, Washington, after spending a two week vacation at the home of his parents.

New York Woman Caught Sneaking To 'Iron Curtain'

CHERBOURG, France — (P)—A young New York mother was held in the Cherbourg jail today loudly denying charges by her former husband that she was trying to sneak her son through the Iron Curtain to be brought up as a Communist.

French police picked up Mrs. Philomene Kreisler Kirkwood, 27, when she stepped off the liner Homeland yesterday at the request of the United States state department.

Commissioner Raoul Michel said Mrs. Kirkwood would be held until tomorrow, but that if a New York warrant charging her with kidnapping the boy, Tom, 8, did not arrive by then she would be given her liberty.

The woman's former husband, George Kreisler, a Manhattan night club entertainer, obtained the kidnapping warrant in New York. He told authorities there that his ex-wife was a Communist and was taking the child to Russian-occupied Germany to be brought up as a Red.

Middlecoff Tops Tam O'Shanter

CHICAGO — (P)—Cary Middlecoff, hitting one of the hottest stretches of golf in his career, carried off top swag in the first phase of Tam O'Shanter's gold rush and now aims for $12,500 in the "World" meet—the game's richest payoff.

The 30-year-old Memphis star, who forsook the practice of dentistry to carve a place on the tournament circuit, won Tam's all-American top prize of $2,250 yesterday in a man-to-man battle with Fred Hawkins, 27-year-old pro from El Paso, Tex.

He and the nation's 64 other prime pros enter the "World championship" Thursday.

The high-strung Middlecoff had a pair of 34's for 68 to finish. This gave him a total 274—14 strokes under Tam's par—and the all-American first award.

His winnings shot him to a total $12,810 for the season and moved the 1949 National Open champion from fifth to third place among the leaders on the financial list.

Hawkins played in the same threesome on the final round with Middlecoff.

Trailing by four strokes entering the last trip, Hawkins proceeded to jangle the nerves of the good doctor. Twice he came within one stroke of closing the gap with brilliant trap recoveries that left him less than four feet for birdie puts. Then he faltered.

Only one stroke behind, he blasted from a trap four feet from the pin on 16—but missed the putt to finish with 66, not quite enough.

Hawkins' second place was worth $1,400.

Third was Ted Kroll, Purple Heart veteran from New Hartford, N. Y., who finished with 70 for 279 and $1,200. Skee Riegel's 280 was worth $1,100 and four shared 282 to get $850 apiece—Jerry Barber, Norman Von Nida, Sydney, Australia, the leading foreign entry, Jimmy Demaret and Ralph Blomquist.

A virtual unknown, John Barnum of Grand Rapids, Mich., grabbed for fame with a 64-74—138 and the halfway lead, but slipped with two succeeding rounds of 76 and 72. He wound up in a tie for 13th and $253.

Grand Marais
Pvt. Norvin Lafeyvre, son of Mrs. Mary Lafeyvre of Grand Marais, left for Fort Lawton, Washington, after spending a two weeks' furlough at his home.

Dr. Joseph Locke of St. Petersburg, Florida, Cecil Locke of Munising and Warren Locke of Petoskey left Grand Marais Wednesday via plane for Harbor Beach following a few days at their Sucker Lake camp.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sullivan and two children of Nanatie Station, Florida, are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nettleton, younger daughter of the Sullivans visited relatives in Tennessee enroute to Grand Marais.

'Cooling Off' Period Urged

Congressman Asks West Point Delay

WASHINGTON — (P)—Rep. Murray (R-Wis.) proposed today that Congress order a 30-day "cooling off" period before the Army ousts 90 West Point cadets involved in a cribbing scandal.

"If there was ever a time when 'to err is human, to forgive divine,' it is now," Murray said in a statement accompanying a resolution he introduced in the House.

Murray said he does not want to be in the "embarrassing position of condoning any wrong doing" but added the military should not be allowed "to do something that will be regretted for all future time." He continued:

"It should be realized that they are dealing with boys at West Point and any hasty action is going to affect not only the lives of these young boys but their families as well."

Brews Increase Lead With Double Victory
(By The Associated Press)

The Milwaukee Brewers, virtually unstoppable in a mid-season surge, continue to edge away from the American Association pack.

The Brewers gave convincing proof of their power Sunday with a doubleheader lambasting of Toledo. The scores were 10-0 and 15-2. The Brewers have won 19 of their last 21 games.

Kansas City, in second place, dropped seven games of the Milwaukee pace by splitting a doubleheader with last-place Columbus. The Blues won the opener, 11-8, and dropped the nightcap, 8-7.

St. Paul, onetime leader, slipped deeper into third spot when the Saints dropped both Sunday games to Indianapolis, 9-4 and 1-0.

The Minneapolis Millers lost two to Louisville, 6-2 and 2-0.

Aaron Robinson Sold By Tigers To Bosox
BOSTON—(P)—Catcher Aaron Robinson was sold last yesterday to the Boston Red Sox, leaving the Detroit Tigers with only two catchers.

Actually, Joe Ginsberg is the team's only able-bodied receiver. Bob Swift was hurt in the first game of yesterday's doubleheader with Boston.

The sale of Robinson was announced immediately after the twin bill. Tiger manager Red Rolfe did not say what will be done about filling the vacancy on the Detroit roster.

The Red Sox sent pitcher Paul Hinrichs to Kansas City to make room for Robinson. Detroit obtained the big catcher from Chicago in 1948, in a swap for Billy Pierce.

38th parallel, pre-war political border between North and South Korea.

The U. N. wants it "in effect the line now generally held by the U. N. forces," much of which is in North Korea.

Ridgway's headquarters outlined the Allied demand Monday in a statement issued "to set at rest speculation."

The statement nullified a press release issued by the civil information and education division of supreme Allied headquarters Saturday. The release said the Allies were demanding a buffer zone somewhere between the present battle line and the Yalu river on the Manchurian border.

London's Consolation To Sherlock Holmes

LONDON—(P)—At long last London is to have its own version of Christopher Morley's "Baker Street Irregulars."

A collection of Sherlock Holmes fans, red-faced at the thought of their hero going virtually unrecognized in his own city, have formed what they prosaically call the "Sherlock Holmes Society of London," with the equally prosaic aim of bringing together "people who have a common interest as readers and students of the literature of Sherlock Holmes."

"For a considerable number of years," the new society says, "there has been in Britain no society devoted to the study of the life and work of Sherlock Holmes. This is the more remarkable in view of the many such societies which exist in other parts of the world. The omission has now been rectified."

The new society has as its president the vice chancellor of Cambridge University, S. C. Roberts.

PUEBLO, Colo.—(P)—Modern Huck Finns know a good fishing hole when they see one.

When a tank truck from the Colorado Game and Fish Department brought 3,000 trout to dump in Mineral Palace Park Lake, nearly 50 boys, poles in hand, met it.

Before the men finished dumping the pan-size fish, several lads had caught their day's limit of five and headed home. One boy didn't even use a line for one catch. A fish missed the lake and slid under the truck. The boy came up with the fish firmly clutched in his hand.

Denmark Finds Oldest Tombstone In Its History

COPENHAGEN—(P)—Excavations on a grassy islet in the north of Denmark have provided evidence for archaeologists that human sacrifices took place at a distinguished lady's funeral there 3,000 to 4,000 years ago.

The finds date from between the stone and the bronze age. About 1800 B. C. the islet was used as a burial ground. It was found that an adult woman and a 12 or 14-year-old girl were buried together. Many bronze bracelets and rings indicated that the woman was of high birth. Across the feet of the two lay, in a cramped position, the body of a murdered male slave, killed as a propitiatory sacrifice to ward off disease from the remaining members of the community.

One of the stones, forming the lid of the "coffin", bore the so-called sun sign—a wheel with four spokes. This is the oldest tombstone ever found in Denmark.

Tourist Find Going Is Rough In Norway

OSLO—(P)—When taking a summer cruise to Norway, better bring along some nice warm clothes and your skis.

That at least is the impression of some 100 tourists from many nations, currently on a mid-summer cruise to the Norwegian fiords with the "Stella Polaris."

Driving from Hjoerungafjord, 25 miles south of Aalesund across the mountains to Geirangerfjord, their touring cars were forced to return at the half way mark by a howling snowstorm. A scheduled skiing exhibition by crack Norwegian skiers on what was left of last year's snow was called off—because of too much fresh snow.

Newspaperman Tries Job With Symphony

AP Newsfeatures
WAYNESBORO, Pa. — A symphony orchestra violinist in winter, newspaperman in summer. Paul F. Chalfant of Waynesboro, Pa., this fall will occupy a first violin chair with the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra. He now is a staff newsman for the Waynesboro Record Herald, and in addition is a director and vice president of the publishing company.

He was a violinist with the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra last season. When an offer was made to him at the close of the season by Antal Dorati, conductor, to join the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, he accepted promptly.

Chalfant, now 24, served in the Navy in World War II, then returned to Oberlin Conservatory of Music at Oberlin, O., from which he was graduated in 1949. He became an assistant in the music department of the University of Tulsa, where he received his master's degree. He was a member of the Tulsa Philharmonic Orchestra before signing with Baltimore Symphony for the fall and winter of 1950-51.

Music is his profession, Chalfant says, but he intends keeping alive his interest in his newspaper.

NSC Knows When Accidents Happen

CHICAGO — Accidents don't punch a time clock on the job—but more accidents check in during certain hours of the day.

According to the 1951 edition of "Accident Facts," statistical yearbook of the National Safety Council, more workers suffer disabling injuries on the job between 10 and 11 in the morning and between 3 and 4 in the afternoon than during any other hours of the day.

Grad Student Finds More About Glass

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. — (AP) — A West Virginia University graduate student says research he conducted proved false a belief that industrial waste such as fly ash might be used successfully as a component of glass.

The study was made by Robert D. Bittle of Oakland, Md., to meet requirements for a master's degree. He is an employee of the Allegheny Ordnance Works at Frostburg, Md.

"A variation in composition, a major factor in glass production, makes the industrial use of fly ash discouraging," Bittle says.

He recommends, however, a continuation of research with particular emphasis on the contribution of specific oxides to the properties of glass. Bittle used fly ash from the Morgantown Ordnance Works and a soda lime glass for base material in his experiments.

The slave trade began in 1503, when the Portuguese landed the first shipment of Negroes at Santo Domingo.

Pittsburgh Youth Grows Out Of Job

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — A 20-year-old Pittsburgh high school graduate is finding his six feet, eight inches of height a handicap in landing a job. He has some clerical experience and a background in drafting. The Army doesn't want him because he is over six feet, six inches tall.

"It's always the same story," he complained. "They say I'm too tall for their desks, filing cabinets or something. Sometimes they say I'm just too tall."

Charles once thought he had a drafting job sewed up. Then he had an interview with the prospective boss. The man said:

"I'll call you if I can find a desk big enough for you."

He never called.

Guinea Pigs Are Being Used Again

VANCOUVER — (AP) — The guinea pig now is being used in experiments which may save the lives of valuable beef animals. T. C. Willis, of the Kamloops Federal Experimental Station, said guinea pigs will be used in tests of the purple milk vetch, a plant which has spread over many acres and is poisonous to cattle.

3000-Mile Walk Taken By Cat To Rejoin Family

SAN GABRIEL, Calif. — (AP)— This is about an alley cat named Tom whose owner says he traveled here all the way from St. Petersburg, Fla., to rejoin his family. The trip took him two years and six weeks.

When Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Smith left for California in 1949, they gave Tom to the man who bought their home, Robert Hanson.

Two weeks later, Hanson wrote that Tom had run away, and it was the last the Smiths heard about their cat—until last night.

"Charlie, there's a big cat meowing in our yard," Mrs. Smith told her husband. "I wish you'd go out and chase him away."

Instead of running, however, the cat leaped into Smith's arms and began to purr. "Hey, Betty!" Smith shouted. "This is old Tom!" No doubt about it, Mrs. Smith said. She couldn't explain how the Florida-born cat found its way to California.

Old Tom was skinny and worn and so tired from his 3000-mile walk that he collapsed on the kitchen floor. But he was happy. "And we're happy to see him, too," Mrs. Smith confided.

U. S. Blamed For Indecent Books

LONDON — (AP) — Home Secretary Chuter Ede has ordered a country-wide drive against indecent publications. They are said to be mostly of American origin.

They are reprinted by small-town printers in this country, and are believed to be circulated through a lending library which spreads indecent literature throughout Britain. Some of the books are typewritten and leave little to the imagination.

Traffic in indecent literature and pictures is said to have had a startling increase in the past two years.

Michigan's Scenic Outdoors Serves As Wayne U. Hosteling Laboratory

Looking over hosteling routes in the State of Michigan are two Wayne University coeds, Marian Johnson (left), of Hancock, and Phyllis Panches, of Howard City.

It is with the Detroit center that Wayne works closely in presenting the course. Among the major trips outlined by hosteling authorities for selection by Wayne students is the bicycle trip beginning at the Boon hostel north of Cadillac. This route includes the National Music Camp at Interlochen, a car-ferry trip from Frankfort to Manistiquette, extensive bicycling in the Northern Peninsula, and a return through Boyne City and Gaylord.

Besides cycling trips, canoeing expeditions are also available along Michigan's winding rivers, such as the Au Sable, Huron and Manistiquette.

It was in 1938 that the American Youth Hostel organization established the first Michigan

Hostel, at Saline Valley Farms in Washtenaw County. Today, eleven nationally chartered Michigan hostels form a network of facilities for overnight stops at minimum cost. These facilities range from mansions to cabins and are supervised by experienced personnel.

At Boyne City and Boon, skiing facilities are also an attraction. These will in time be easily accessible to the state's eastern residents through a chain of proposed hostels running across the state from Port Huron to Cadillac.

A chain of hostels along Lake Huron is also planned, extending from Bay City to Mackinaw.

So great has recent interest in hosteling been that, in addition to the sites shown on the map, hostels are now proposed for Bay Port, Harbor Beach, Forrester, Clio, Pontiac, Adrian, Tipton, Jackson, Niles, Decatur, South Haven, Holland, Muskegon, Pentwater, Ravenna, Traverse City, and Charlotte.

Glyptostrobioides Is Back Again

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. — (AP) — A specimen of a tree once thought to be extinct is flourishing in West Virginia University's Arboretum.

The tree is the Metasequoia Glyptostrobioides, a relative of California's giant Sequoia. Dr. Earl L. Core, head of the University's Department of Biology, said three specimens were planted this past spring after they were presented by the Brooklyn Botanical Garden in connection with a national study of climatic requirements. Two have since disappeared and are believed to have been stolen from the Arboretum, but the third has taken hold in a manner indicating that West Virginia is the proper habitat for the tree.

Seeds were gathered in 1947 in a program directed by Dr. S. D. Merrill of the Arnold Arboretum, Jamaica Plain, Mass., and seedlings now have been distributed to numerous institutions here and in the Far East for testing purposes.

Quebec-Labrador Iron Ore Glows With Promise

Some 350 miles north of the little St. Lawrence River township of Seven Islands, on the Quebec-Labrador border, geologists and engineers have discovered a vast region rich in high-grade hematite ore, a region which may rival or even surpass the famed Mesabi Range of Minnesota.

Interest in this region was first aroused in 1895 when Dr. A. P. Low of the Geological Survey of Canada reported his findings on his return from a canoe trip through this territory. During his trip he found rock formations similar to the Animiki type of the Lake Superior region. He estimated the ore-bearing terrain, lying northwest of the basins of the Hamilton and York rivers, to cover an area roughly 350 miles long by 40 or more miles in width. Throughout this vast area he noted that iron-ore formations were prevalent.

Concession Acquired

In 1929 aerial reconnaissance by Dr. J. E. Gill disclosed an area of high-grade ore at Lake Ruth, Labrador, and in 1936 the Labrador Mining and Exploration Company acquired an earlier concession, while in 1948 it was granted 19,000 square miles in the upper part of the Hamilton River basin by the Newfoundland Government.

Rich deposits have also been located at Burnt Creek and Sawyer Lake.

According to Canadian Government figures, a 1948 survey reported that 41,000,000 tons of potential high-grade ore had been proved on the holdings of the Labrador Mining and Exploration Company, and some 98,000,000 tons on the property of the Hollinger North Shore Mining Company.

These figures convey some idea of the vastness of the strike which ultimately may run well beyond these estimates. Furthermore, the engineers are convinced that much of the ore may be extracted by the easy and quick open-pit method.

Airstrip Opened

The opening up of an airstrip at Knob Lake, Quebec, in 1947 greatly facilitated access to this extremely difficult region. Ever since the airstrip became operational, equipment of all kinds has been flown in, including giant steam shovels and bulldozers. Ten or more tons of food is delivered by air every week for the construction crews.

Railroad builders, however, are encountering engineering problems of the first magnitude. Added to the natural difficulties of the terrain, including heavily wooded areas and rock formations, is another major obstacle—mud, which in places threatens to engulf even the giant steam shovels and bulldozers.

During the summer months the construction crews also have to contend with swarms of voracious insects and in winter with the bitter cold of near-Arctic temperatures, which sometimes fall to 50 below zero. Once the railroad is completed the job of moving the vast amount of mining equipment can be speeded up and shipments of ore started to their ultimate destination.

Transit Speeded

The ore freighters will have to cover roughly the same mileage to United States East Coast ports as they do in their passage from Duluth, Minn., to Buffalo. Without the loss of time in locking through the canal on the Great Lakes route, speedier transit is anticipated. From any one of a number of East Coast ports the ore will be transported by rail freight to the steel-producing centers.

Ready access to this vast new source of raw materials has speeded the demand for the establishment of a steel mill in New England, perhaps in the New London, Conn., area. Preliminary surveys by qualified experts estimate the potential demand for steel from such a plant at more than 1,250,000 tons a year. There is also a large market for steel in the New York and New Jersey areas and from a location such as New London, much of the tonnage could be shipped by lighter to the delivery points.

A high percentage of New England's industry lies in the field of machinery and machine tools, all heavy users of steel. The benefits accruing to these manufacturers from having a nearby source of steel is obvious and in turn the mill would have its customers near at hand.

Intense Interest

The greatly accelerated demand for steel due to the nation's rearmament program and an ever-expanding domestic economy has put increasing burdens on America's already giant steel industry. Faced with these urgent needs for more and still more steel production the sponsors of the New England mill believe that as costly an undertaking as the mill may prove to be, the long-range potentialities of such a project cannot fail to bring great future industrial benefits to the region.

For these reasons the development of the Quebec-Labrador iron-ore deposits is being watched with intense interest, for therein may lie one of the greatest undeveloped sources of iron ore in the world, enough to sustain the demands of Canada and the United States for a number of the critical years which appear to lie ahead.

Exams Show Doctors Are Aging Early

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—A Pittsburgh physician declares selective service examinations for doctors have revealed that they age early. Many physicians, says Dr. George E. Spencer, appear older than the selective service age limit of 50 for medics.

Dr. Spencer advises the physicians to take frequent vacations. Even an "overnight" vacation from calls will be helpful, he suggests, although he recommends three-day vacations as most helpful.

The reason physicians age fast, Dr. Spencer says, is that they work too hard—right from the beginning when they enter college. Irregular hours after practice is started is another reason for early aging of doctors, Dr. Spencer adds.

Pilot In Trouble Gets Quick Help

RAVENNA, Neb.—(AP)—When an Air Force pilot faced with a forced landing circled Ravenna, he found a brightly lighted baseball field but an unlighted airport.

The unidentified pilot quickly found a solution. Flying low over the ball park, he dropped his map case with a note attached. It sent spectators speeding from the ball park to the airport where they parked their cars with headlights lighting the runway. Down came the Air Force plane to a perfect landing.

Atomic Radiation Lights Old Camp Fires To Trace Prehistoric Man

By BIRT DARLING
NEA Special Correspondent
ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (NEA) — Michigan's amateur archaeologists, hot on the trail of ancient man, will have the advantage of an atomic radiation process in their attempts to prove that prehistoric man was here 10,000 to 15,000 years ago.

The amateurs, organized recently as the Michigan State Archaeological Society, are busy cataloging known Indian village sites, burial grounds and mounds throughout the state for future diggings. Many of these sites have been explored before—but not in the light of "Carbon 13."

Carbon 13 is an isotope or variant of common, everyday carbon—the stuff you have left when your summer campfire simmers down. The Indians, of course, scattered thousands of campfires over this and other states.

In the course of centuries, the common carbon's chemical structure changed and became Carbon 13, which, scientists have learned, disintegrates at a calculable rate over a period of 25,000 years until nothing is left.

This summer, members of the Michigan State Archaeological Society are exploring the high-cut banks along rivers and creeks, seeking out signs of campfires which glowed centuries ago.

To them, a "lens" of carbon, indicating one of these campfires, is a far more exciting find than a cache of spearheads or the moulding bones of some ancient chief.

The University of Michigan's anthropological division is now using the Carbon 13 technique to calculate dates of prehistoric finds. Dr. Emerson F. Greenman, head of the Great Lakes department of this division, is secretary of the new archaeological group, so the work of the amateurs won't go unnoticed.

Hottest find of the season had been the accidental discovery of two Indian skeletons at Elsie, Mich., approximately half-way between Saginaw and Lansing.

A group of youngsters, spading around in a gravel pit area, unearthed the remains. The pit's owner called sheriff's department officers, and the officers referred the matter to the Michigan State Police. The last-named wisely turned it over to the professional archaeologists, after amateur archaeologists scented a real discovery.

The find is "hot" because the Indian burials were on a gravel ridge overlooking what geologists know as "Lake Saginaw." Lake Huron, during the retreat of the last ice-age around 15,000 years ago, was as far inland as Elsie—a good 50 miles farther west than now.

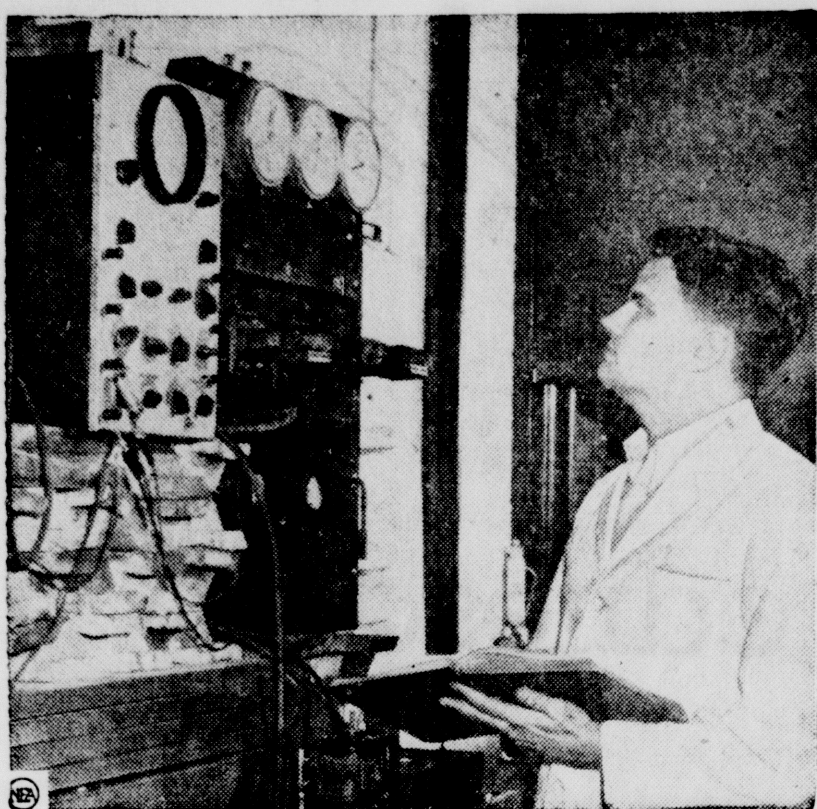

If the remains of campfires can be found here, or of other vegetable matter, Greenman thinks it's entirely possible that America's most ancient man will have been discovered, thanks to the Carbon 13 process.

Rough Schedule Keeps Texan Parents Going

WACO, Tex. — (AP) — Caring for ten-month-old twins is just part of the daily chores of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Garnett.

Garnett reports for duty at the General Tire Co., here at 11 p. m. He works eight hours and then hurries to a 7 a. m. class at Baylor University. He has another class at 8 a. m. Then he runs three blocks to his apartment to keep the twins while Mrs. Garnett runs to a 9 a. m. class. She then dashes home to relieve Frank while he attends a 10 a. m. class. Then he runs home so that Mrs. Garnett can attend an 11 a. m. class.

After lunch, Garnett takes a nap. But he must be up in time to care for the twins—while Mrs. Garnett attends a 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. night class.

TUCKED AWAY in the pile of material under the dials are the remains of old Indian campfires, which still give off enough radiation for University of Michigan archaeologists to determine how long ago the Indians lived there.

Injuries Hurt The Budget, Too

CHICAGO—One way to look at the effect of accidents is in terms of family happiness and the family budget.

Here are some averages presented in the 1951 edition of "Accident Facts," the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook:

In 1950 there was one accidental death in 473 families, one disabling injury in five families, and the average dent in the budget for all U. S. families was $170.

Fish Blood Typing Planned For Salmon

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. — (AP) — Where do salmon wander after they swim into the sea from their spawning beds in rivers?

Where do starlings breed? What course do tuna follow in their ocean migrations?

Scientists at Santa Barbara College hope to obtain answers to these and other questions of interest to ocean fishermen by research into the blood types of fish. Dr. John E. Cushing recently launched the program. He and his aides are studying blood samples from salt water fish kept alive in a special aquarium on the campus.

He expects to find that fish have different types of blood, just as humans do, and that through knowledge of the various types man will be able to trace their paths through the sea. A fish's blood will act as an identification tag, identifying him no matter in what ocean he is found.

Hopi Indians Rattle Snakes And Get Rattling Good Rain

HOPI RAINMAKERS: They're afraid of cameras, but not snakes.

By HOWARD DEWALD
WINSLOW, Ariz.—(NEA)—
Hopi snake dances pay off.

One of the most spectacular religious rites in the world, the dances on the mesas of the Hopi Indian Reservation in northern Arizona is a primitive supplication for rain—and that's usually what follows.

White men are stumped for an answer to why it rains after the dances in which the Indians take live, deadly rattlesnakes in their mouths. But the snake priests say it is because the ceremony has been performed in a manner pleasing to the gods.

Rain is an especial blessing on the dry, sun-baked reservation, where sometime between Aug. 20 and 30 this year dances will be held at Walpi and Mishongnovi.

Hopi snake priests will emerge from their kivas after constant study of the sun, clouds, and sky and decree the exact dates a week or so before the dances begin.

On completion of the dances by the Hopi in painted leather kilts and ornate rattles, swift runners take the wriggling reptiles from the villages to the bottom of the mesas. The "little brothers" carry the prayers of the tribe to the gods.

The snakes made quick connections in 1947 because no sooner had spectators started back over the 60 miles of reservation roads than a devastating cloudburst cut loose.

In 1949 a storm hit all of north-east Arizona 3 hours after the dances, and last year there was also rain, although not in such great amount.

But the results aren't always good. In 1948 for example the generations-old ceremonies backfired. There had been rain somewhere on the reservation on each of the 30 days preceding the dances. Then the dances were staged and the rains stopped.

Some dancers are bitten by the snakes, but they apparently are not effected by the venom. Many say that before the dance the snakes are teased with feathers and sticks at which they constantly strike, thereby using so much venom they are harmless during the dance. Others contend the Hopi can make himself immune to the poison of the rattlesnakes in a way known only to the tribe.

Although the dances are a sacred ceremonial, they are public and visitors may attend. However cameras have been banned since 1913. All spectators are searched for hidden cameras to prevent the "spirit in the box" from stealing the Hopi souls.

Need Inoculation For Travelers

GENEVA—(P)—The World Health Organization has compiled and published a list of inoculations required by 122 countries and territories for travellers. Copies of the list can be obtained from national health administrations, port and airport health authorities, steamship navigation companies and airlines.

A reminder of the period of validity of certificates of vaccination or inoculation is also included. Figured from the date of immunization they are valid for small-pox inoculations from 14 days to three years; for cholera, seven days to six months; for yellow fever, 10 days to four years; for typhus, one year.

Shark Repellent Helps Fishermen

SAN PEDRO, Calif.—(AP)—A chemical shark repellent developed to save fliers downed at sea is proving a boon to fishermen here. The repellent, which comes in small cakes, has proven effective in chasing the killer fish which destroy thousands of dollars worth of fishing nets by pursuing smaller fish into them.

One skipper of a tuna tawler reports that he lowered a net equipped with the repellent in waters infested with sharks. He said he caught 100 tons of fish without being bothered by a single shark. The repellent affects the shark's taste organs and robs the huge fish of the desire to bite.

THEY BOTH WON
OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—On Feb. 19, 1932, Oklahoma's present governor, Johnston Murray, met his future wife, Willie Emerson.

It was at the Huckins Hotel during a state democratic meeting. They were backing different candidates for vice chairman. Murray's man won. Miss Emerson won her man.

Cerebral Palsy Victims Win Normal Life Because Parents Wouldn't Quit

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—Some parents refuse to admit defeat over cerebral palsy . . .

So little children are learning to speak, watching in mirrors as they form their mouths as if to blow bubbles, or eat an ice cream cone. Others are succeeding for the first time in dressing themselves, buttoning buttons and tying shoes and one who could walk only in circles is learning to walk straight and steady.

The cerebral palsy training center was established last February in Firmin Desloge hospital by St. Louis university with the co-sponsorship of the cerebral palsy parents council of greater St. Louis.

The main impetus came from the parents, beginning two years ago with a meeting of a small number of men and women whose children had cerebral palsy. This is not a disease, but a condition. Damage to the brain before birth, during birth, or in young childhood, destroys normal control over muscles, or arms, legs, trunk, or head, interferes with coordination, puts them under minor or heavy retarding handicaps. Yet their minds often are as bright and receptive as those of most children.

Alone, one parent could do little; together they decided they could do much.

The most concrete result is the training center, planned by the university, but established two full years ahead of schedule by the enthusiasm and aid of the parents and others in the council.

At night and on days off, parents came in to remodel the chapel's room and guest room on the top floor of the hospital into the new center. They painted, made furniture, installed lights, and helped furnish it with all the special training equipment.

Now the center is a going affair; with 75 young patients aged eight months to ten years.

There are many applicants. A medical advisory board, composed of physicians from departments of physical medicine, pediatrics, neurology and orthopedics, selects those most likely to benefit. Children receive a medical checkup from private physicians or from clinics at the medical school. An executive committee chooses the children who can be admitted. The parents council assists many families who cannot pay the two or three dollars per lesson at the center.

The center, with Miss Diane Foster as coordinator, runs a small nursery school from 9 a. m. to noon, and from 1 to 4 p. m., to give youngsters experience in creative activities and also how to get along with other children before they go to regular or special schools. Other children come one to three times a week for speech, physical, and occupational therapy. The psychology department of St. Louis university provides consultation and assists in evaluating the child's mental and social development.

Americans Earning World's Highest Pay

LAKE SUCCESS—(AP)—United States citizens enjoy by far the world's biggest average per capita income—$1,450 apiece—a recent U. N. survey states.

The survey, made by the U. N. Statistical Office, covered 70 countries having about 90 per cent of the world's population and still more of its income. Figures were based on official and semi-official statistics for 1949 and on tentative estimates prepared by the U. N. Statistical Office.

The survey also revealed these facts: Eight countries having one tenth of the world's population received in 1949 over half the world's income. They were the United States, Australia, Canada, Denmark, New Zealand, Sweden, Switzerland and the United Kingdom.

Martha Vickers Delays Rooney Divorce Action

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Divorce proceedings against Mickey Rooney have been indefinitely postponed by Actress Martha Vickers, but a reconciliation is not in the making, her lawyer says.

Several problems have arisen in connection with a property settlement, Attorney Stanley E. Fox explained, and the case probably will be heard in a few weeks.

Miss Vickers, 26, sued the 30-year-old Rooney on grounds of cruelty. They have a 15-month-old son, Ted Michael.

To Hell And Back Is No Joke To Him

PENANG—(AP)—Fifty-nine-year-old Parsraman Tambulong, an Indian overseer, "died" and when he awoke told a strange story of visiting Hell.

While relatives prepared him for burial, Parsraman claimed his spirit wandered for five minutes "in a strange hereafter where there was only bare land, without houses and trees."

"It was drab, misty and weird. I looked round and saw spikes on which some wrong-doers were being punished," he said. These people looked like ordinary beings, except that they had large heads with tremendous eyes, ears and noses. All around me were boiling cauldrons and huge flames. Suddenly I was thrust into a deep, fathomless pool of icy-cold water which practically numbed me."

At this stage Parsraman "returned to life." A few minutes more and he would have gone into a grave. Medical authorities, however, said they thought Parsraman might have been in a delirium during his visit to "Hell."

BOYS WITH PLANES

STRATFORD, Ont. — (AP)—Youngsters in the PAL Model Airplane Club here have their own workshop where they build everything from flying saucers to model airplanes with a seven-foot wingspread. Apprehensive mothers note the big models are almost big enough to carry baby brother away.

Steers Fatten In Coal Fields

Lush Grass Growing On Reclaimed Land

By WILLIAM G. SMOCK
PITTSBURGH—(AP)—One of the nation's biggest coal operators is in the cattle business.

But that doesn't mean the company's coal miners will be replaced by cowboys or that President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers will ever call a strike of horse wranglers and fence riders.

Hanna Coal Co. Ohio division of the big Pittsburgh-Consolidation Coal Co., is raising some white-faced Herefords as an experiment on land reclaimed after strip (surface) coal mining operations.

In a large southeastern Ohio area underlain with rich coal veins, the cattle are browsing on luxuriant foliage. They are feeding so close to some current stripping operations they can lift their heads and see huge power shovels scooping earth from the coal veins.

The company is experimenting with beef cattle to see what economic use can be made of the land the firm gradually is reclaiming from the ugly spoil banks by surface coal mining.

All Ohio coal men are watching the Hanna experiment because of a 1949 Ohio law which requires strip operators to restore the land after they have dumped it upside down to get at the rich coal.

In the old days, coal operators moved into an area with their huge shovels, ripped off the layer of coal and left the land thoroughly chewed up and completely useless. Strip mining is done where the coal lies within 80 feet of the surface.

Hanna began experimenting with land reclamation in 1942 in an effort to get some return from the land it had to buy to gain access to the coal.

President James Hyslop of Hanna said the firm is spending from $75,000 to $90,000 a year in direct costs for land reclamation and planting.

Psychological Illness Turns Man Purple Hue

SINGAPORE—(AP)—A local man perspired and turned purple. Then, he became sick with fear and he left his place of business.

Back home he called a doctor. But first he took a bath. He sighed with relief when the purple was washed away by the shower. The purple man reconstructed his day's activities in search of an explanation. It came: In a chemist's shop a fan had blown dust in his face. The dust had been gentian violet powder. The heat of the day did the rest.

WORLD OF BEAUTY—Kerstin ("Kicki") Hakansson, center, of Sweden, waves in triumph after winning the beauty title, "Miss World," in a London contest. The 22-year-old beauty won a prize of about $3000. Runners-up, both from London, were Laura Ellison-Davies, left, who placed second, and Doreen Dawne, right, third.

Prolific Ewe Puts Youth In Business

EL PASO, Tex.—(AP)—A four-year-old Hampshire ewe, named Chubby, has put her young owner into the sheep breeding business.

Donald Leslie, El Paso County club boy, reports that Chubby has brought him eight lambs in three years. Her first offsprings were twin lambs and the last two years she has come up with triplets.

Donald is using this high production stock as a foundation for a sheep flock. He plans to work on multiple birth with the flock.

Biblical Site Will Be Health Resort

TEL AVIV—(AP)—Tiberias, on the western shores of the Sea of Galilee, is to be developed into a winter spa and a health resort, it is learned.

Plans submitted by the Tiberias Municipality stress that the Biblical and historic sites in the area shall be protected. Tiberias lies 682 ft. below sea level. It has hot springs with good anti-rheumatic effects.

Detroit Police Officer Demoted

DETROIT—(AP)—Police Inspector Andrew Kish, guilty of "conduct unbecoming an officer" in accepting loans of $3,800 from a bar maid and bar owner, looked dejectedly at his future today.

"It looks," he said, "like we've lost everything, including our home."

The 24-year veteran of the force was convicted by a police trial board yesterday and demoted to the rank of lieutenant.

He was ordered to pay off the debts—$3,000 of it to the bar maid who made a loan to help the Kish family with a new house—within three months.

The slim, bespectacled officer will lose $1,167 in pay because of his reduction in rank. As an inspector he was paid $6,580 a year. He will be paid $5,413 as a lieutenant.

IN MEMORIAM
MEDICINE HAT, Alta.—(AP)—Names of 80 pioneers have been branded into the walls of the new Medicine Hat museum.

The first royal Stuart of Scotland was Robert II (1360-1390).

Eva Peron Boomed For Vice President Down In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina—(AP)—The boom to re-elect Juan D. Peron as president of Argentina and make his wife, Eva, vice-president was officially underway today.

Although such a ticket has been widely predicted, it received new impetus last night when the General Federation of Labor came out for both Peron and his wife. It was the first group with government connections to do so.

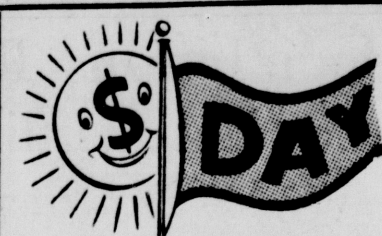

The federation said it would sponsor a mass rally Aug. 22 to whip up support.

Meanwhile, a strike of Argentine Railway Engineers and Firemen opposed to the Peron regime entered its third day. Service on two main lines was slowed down but there was no indication of any serious effects nor that the walk-out was spreading.

Frozen Peas Are Favorites Now

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Green peas are by far the most important single frozen vegetable, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The 1950 frozen green pea pack set a new record of more than 154,000,000 pounds, the department says.

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics notes that consumption of frozen peas in recent years has cut into the demand for fresh peas, particularly during the winter harvest season in southern truck areas.

Amputation Foundation Rebuilds Church To Boost Its Job Of Rebuilding Veterans

By RICHARD KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK—(NEA)—There's more to the rehabilitation of amputees than an artificial limb. And the National Amputation Foundation is giving that "more" to ex-soldiers who have lost an arm or a leg.

Sylvian Gans, the Foundation's secretary, explains how the organization goes a few steps beyond the mere medical phase of amputation.

"The Veterans' Administration does a wonderful job, but it only goes so far. The VA supplies the amputee with the best possible artificial limb and it teaches him how to use it. But it just isn't equipped to go into his personal problems or to help him find a job.

"And, believe me, he's got a lot of personal problems. Remember, he's lost an arm or a leg, in a few cases both. What should he do about the girl or wife he left behind? He's changed, not only physically, but mentally, too. Where does he go for a job? He just can't sit home and brood."

Gans and the other workers discuss the problems with the men as they come in for help. The staff speaks from experience, because they are amputees, too. Gans lost a leg when a Japanese suicide pilot crashed into his Navy ship off Okinawa.

As an illustration, Gans told the story of a handsome young drama student, who lost both legs above the knee in a German mine field. When he came back, his mother and two sisters waited on him too well. He had breakfast in bed and never was allowed to do anything for himself.

It was only a matter of time before the boy felt his country and everyone in it owed him a living. Then he came to the National Amputation Foundation offices. They gave him aptitude tests and talked to him, man to man. He quickly got over feeling sorry for himself, took a course in hotel work and is now happy in a job in a hotel.

The Foundation dates back to a day just after World War I, when four forgotten and friendly amputees at Walter Reed General hospital in Washington, D. C., got together. They forgot their troubles in companionship with others who had the same problems.

They reasoned that only an amputee could really understand the emotions of another amputee. After their discharges, they borrowed typewriters and begged office space and set up the Foundation.

One of their earliest dreams was to have a building all their own, for the work they knew was important. That dream is at last coming true, for the Foundation has just obtained a dingy, 100-year-old building that once was a church.

It's run-down and needs repairs, but it's theirs to do with as they wish. They're going to install a swimming pool, as swimming is a favorite exercise for amputees. They plan to have the building completely fireproofed.

All the stairs will be replaced with ramps, which are easier for leg amputees to navigate.

They'll have therapy rooms and a special workshop where the men may experiment with their own ideas for artificial limbs. There will be a kitchen where coffee will always be brewing. And there will be social rooms, where the men will be able to bring their wives and sweethearts for dancing and parties, away from staring eyes.

In World War II alone, 25,000 American boys lost a limb in combat. With the outbreak of the Korean War, more and more veterans turned to the Foundation

Television-Dental Tieup Is Noted

BALTIMORE — (AP) — Television's role in the development of youngsters has gained new prestige here. The visual medium recently got a kindly pat on the antenna from the Baltimore Dental Society.

Full-Breed Indians Are Now On Decline

OLD TOWN, Me. — (AP) — Although there are 1,247 Indians living on Maine's three Indian reservations, Hiram Hall, state Indian agent, says it would be "pretty hard to find a full-blooded Indian in Maine now."

Tribal segregation is not as strict as it once was. Indians who live on Maine's reservations are under no compulsion to do so. Those who do, says Hall, do so because they prefer to. On the reservation, they pay no property taxes. They go to good schools, look for jobs, marry and settle down, root for the Red Sox and try to be good citizens of the United States, says Hall.

Cargoes To Indonesia No Longer Insured

SINGAPORE — (AP) — Insurance and shipping companies have stopped taking responsibility for pilferage in Indonesian ports and Singapore exporters now will have to bear the costs.

Shipping companies now include in their bills of lading a new clause which reads:

"The ship is not responsible for short delivery, storage of contents, damage as a result of theft, pilferage, plunder, terroristic action and generally for all such accidents or happenings as cannot be reasonably prevented by the carrier, master and crew in the management of the vessels."

for help and counsel. "Where else can these fellows go?" asks Gans.

Sentiment Is Balm To 'Softie' Wrecker

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — Even a professional home-wrecker finds he hasn't the heart to lower the boom on what is left of the old Bank of Pittsburgh.

The facade of the old building, smudged and blackened by the roaring industries which built it, has stood alone since the 130-year old structure behind it was razed seven years ago. And now the facade, whose owner declares it is as near perfect an example of the Corinthian order of architecture as can be found, must be sacrificed for another precious Pittsburgh commodity — parking space.

Frank J. Givens, the professional wrecker commissioned to destroy the edifice, is a hard-bitten veteran of the wrecking business. But he has offered a thousand dollars to anyone willing to haul the facade away so he doesn't have to knock it down.

Singapore Defense Volunteers Lag

SINGAPORE — (AP) — Residents of this British crown colony aren't falling over themselves in a rush to volunteer for the civil defense corps and auxiliary medical and fire services.

The government's appeal brought in only 42 registrants on the first day of the campaign launched early in February. Men and women over 30 years of age are wanted for the volunteer corps. The government says it wants to create an "efficient fourth arm" to aid the three fighting services to defend Singapore in the event of war.

NEW WINTER SPORT?

Hand Book Binding Still Is U. S. Craft

AP Newsfeatures
CHICAGO—An age-old craft—hand book binding—is being kept alive in America.

Its sponsor is one of the largest printers of telephone directories, weekly and monthly magazines and catalogues in the country. The R. R. Donnelly and Sons Co., established the high quality bindery 30 years ago.

Harold W. Tribolet, who started as an apprentice in the shop in 1927, heads the enterprise. The company maintains the craftshop as a service to collectors of rare books, dealers and institutional libraries.

Tribolet's handful of craftsmen employ methods the book binding industry devised centuries ago. Priceless volumes are restored, documents are repaired, and treasured books are rebound in exquisite leathers. The men work in an Old-World atmosphere. The tiny shop is quartered away from the hustle and bustle of the firm's mammoth printing industry.

Starting with craftsmen from England, the shop now has its own skilled American-trained workmen.

Here is how the shop goes about restoring books and documents.

In 1843, Joseph Williams, a man with the wanderlust, wrote about his experiences on a trip from Indiana to Oregon Territory. The small book now is a collector's piece. It is valued in the high-priced car class. Its condition showed the results of much handling and dampness.

CRAFT that is centuries old goes into hand book binding.

Its owner sent it to Tribolet with instructions to restore and bind. The title page was torn; the leaves of the book were mildewed.

First the pages were washed in a chemical bath. To make them crisp, they were dipped in a sizing solution. The title page is patched by meticulously tapering the edges of the tear and the paper patch. The patch is made of the same type of paper used in the original book. The finished page appears to be without flaw.

The new binding will be designed to comply with the spirit of the time the book was first published, Tribolet said.

Burglars Get Food For Their Breakfast

Buying Of Malayan Gold Flourishing

SINGAPORE — (AP) — A Chinese goldsmith in Johore Bahru feared the worst when 10 Chinese women, dressed in black, entered his shop and ordered him to shut the front door. He was sure they were women bandits and that he was going to be robbed when one of them asked him to go into the back room.

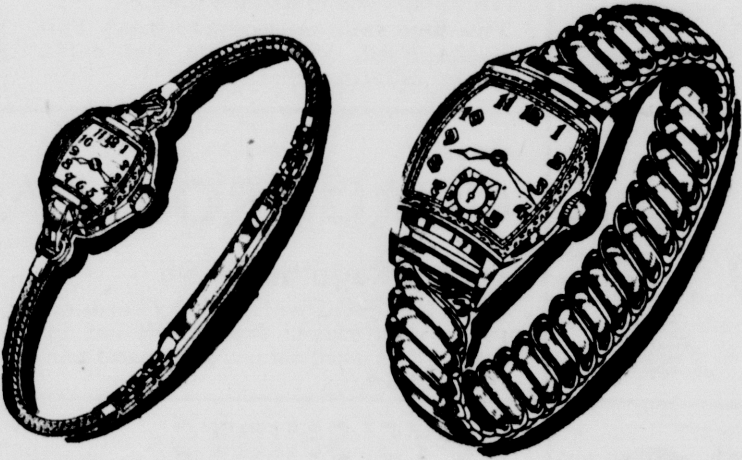

The woman ordered him to bring out his gold ornaments from a showcase, then produced $1,000 in $10 bills and said, "Give me gold bangles to that amount." The awe-stricken goldsmith complied. Then each of the other nine produced $1,000 and asked for gold.

When the $10,000 deal was closed the women said: "We had to do this in secret. If anybody saw us buying all this gold we might have got robbed on the way back to our homes." With fear of another war, gold has become preferred as a security to cash among labouring classes in Malaya.
